Second Bullet Was Fatal One For Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy might have survived the first bullet to strike him in the Dallas assassination, a source familiar with autopsy findings reports; it was the second bullet which proved fatal.

This source said Tuesday night the first bullet fired by Kennedy's assassin struck the President in the back and did not damage any vital organs. He said it was not likely to have caused death.

This account of Kennedy's wounds differed sharply from earlier reports provided by physicians who ministered to the President shortly after he was shot Nov. 22.

Slugs Recovered

Doctors who attended Kennedy in the emergency room at Parkland Hospital in Dallas found two wounds, one in the throat and one in the head. They expressed some uncertainty whether both were caused by the same bullet. But they said that if two bullets were involved, either wound could have been fatal.

Here is the new account of the wounds, as reported by a source fully acquainted with results of a post-mortem examiniation conducted at the Bethesda, Md., Naval Hospital:

The first shot struck Kennedy in the back, made what was described as a small, neat hole and penetrated two or three inches without damaging vital organs.

The bullet may even have entered Kennedy's back after first glancing off some part of the presidential limousine, since its penetration was not dep when compared with the damage done by the other shots fired by the assassin. This first bullet was said to have been the one that was recovered from the stretcher on which Kennedy was carried into the hospital.

The second bullet to strike Kennedy — the third bullet fired — left a large hole in the back of the President's head, destroyed considerable brain tissue and severely damaged the forehead. This wound caused instant death, although a faint spark of life may have remained for a few minutes in the heart and lungs.

This bullet, the source said, was recovered from the limousine.

Interval Of Seconds

The second shot fired by the assassin hit Gov. John B. Connally of Texas in the chest as he turned toward Kennedy after the first bullet hit the President. The bullet passed through Connally's chest and emerged in front, striking the right wrist and lodging in his thigh. He was seated in front of Kennedy on a jump seat.

Since there was an interval of five or six seconds between Kennedy's first and second wounds, the new account leaves the implication that Kennedy might have survived — perhaps escaped serious injury — had he quickly thrown himself to

State Employes Object To New Pay Raise Plan

LANSING (AP) — The Civil Service Commission today recommended a pay raise for state workers averaging 3.5 per cent and estimated to cost $6.5 million next year.

The commission rejected pleas by union spokesmen that it give a more than 2 per cent raise for state workers in the lower income brackets.

"We realize the dedicated service they give," said Commissioner Sarah Robinson of Detroit. "But we found that the Michigan pay rate is the second best in the nation for this type of institutional worker."

The commission recommendation still must be reviewed by the economy-minded Legislature.

Effective In July

Some 32,000 classified state employes would be affected by a pay increase next July. Other state workers not under civil service generally are given money boosts to meet the increases.

The Michigan State Employes Association with 13,000 state workers enrolled, and the 7,000-member Michigan State Employes Union asked for fatter hikes for lower pay classifications.

"We were stunned to find the staff recommendation provided only the smallest two per cent increase for institutional employes in the lowest classification levels," said Wayne Gilmore association president.

The employes union jammed a Lansing state office building hearing room Tuesday with spokesmen for the lower level pay brackets. Each speaker was allowed about three minutes.

Pope Will Pay Visit To India

NEW DELHI, India (AP)— Pope Paul VI has accepted an invitation to visit India for his second break with the tradition against papal travel abroad, officials said Tuesday night.

The Pope will make a pilgrimage to the Holy Land Jan. 4-6, ending a period of 150 years in which papal travel has been restricted to Italy.

Officials at the Vatican declined to confirm the report, but Vatican circles said there was a good chance Pope Paul might attend the International Eucharistic Congress in Bombay next November.

Indian sources said the invitation was extended by President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan through India's envoy at the Vatican.

Predominantly Hindu India has seven million Roman Catholics, including many in Bombay.

In recent years popes have sent personal messages to eucharistic congresses. Pope John XXIII addressed the last congress, in Munich, Germany, by a telephone hookup.

It has been traditional for the Pope to delegate a cardinal to represent him at the congresses. With the unwritten restriction on foreign travel broken by the Holy Land pilgrimage, there would be no reason for Pope Paul not to attend the Bombay congress.

Session Of UN Winds Up With Cold War Lull

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. General Assembly ended its 18th session Tuesday night, a three-month meeting marked by a new lull in the cold war and a new peak in African attacks on segregation and colonialism.

The session opened with delegates heartened by the atmosphere of East-West harmony and ended with many apprehensive over what effect President John F. Kennedy's assassination might have on the world.

This anxiety was eased somewhat by President Johnson's assurance to the assembly Tuesday that he would carry on Kennedy's international policies.

Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko hailed Johnson's speech as "a positive approach to world problems."

The "spirit of Moscow," which set the harmonious tone of debate on disarmament, outer space and other East-West issues, resulted in a number of unanimous votes. However, none of the decisions could be described as far-reaching.

On the broad question of general disarmament no advances were made, but the ticklish problem was turned over to the Geneva negotiators with the blessings of East and West.

Some strides were made toward cooperation in outer space between the Soviet Union and the West, and the two sides moved a step closer to a total ban on nuclear weapon tests.

There were some discordant notes. The Soviet Union and the Western powers clashed over West Germany. The West lost on a number of colonial and racial issues marked by an all-out African assault against both South Africa and Portugal.

The assembly voted overwhelmingly for a worldwide oil embargo against South Africa, despite opposition by the United States, Britain and France.

In a final thrust at white supremacy, the Africans rammed through the assembly Tuesday a call for Security Council investigation of segregation in South West Africa on the ground it threatened world peace.

Big Studebaker Layoff Friday

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — The last Studebaker automobile to be produced in the United States will roll off the assembly line in South Bend Thursday or Friday, triggering a mammoth layoff of workers.

President Byers A. Burlingame said at a news conference Tuesday that about 4,000 workers will be dismissed as the firm ends auto production in South Bend, transferring all such work to its Hamilton, Ont., plant.

Burlingame said Studebaker's South Bend employment, now at about 6,500 will be down to about 2,700 by the end of the year. Another 1,000 workers will be laid off early next year, he added, leaving a added, leaving a permanent South Bend work force of some 1,700.

Those workers will produce parts to service Studebaker dealers and the new autos which will be built in Hamilton.

Faulty Furnace Fumes Fatal To Family Of Four

CADILLAC (AP) — Carbon monoxide from a faulty furnace killed a family of four in its one-story home on Lake Mitchell here, state police said today.

Discovered in their beds Tuesday evening after futile attempts by a relative to call them by telephone were Jerry Tuttle, 21, his wife, Bonnie, 20, and their sons, Robert, 1, and Charles, 3 months.

Medical examination ruled them victims of asphyxiation by carbon monoxide poisoning. It indicated the family had been dead at least 12 hours when discovered.

State police were told by a Michigan Gas Co. serviceman that the floor-type propane gas furnace and hookup to the flue were defective.

Mrs. Tuttle's mother, Mrs. Alvin Hillard of rural Cadillac, said her daughter had visited a doctor Dec. 16 and complained of dizziness and headaches.

She also said the couple had complained about the furnace for a month and that her son-in-law had replaced a worn pipe from the furnace to the chimney Monday.

Tuttle was employed at Malleable Iron Co. here.

Soo, Ont., Mayor Backs Plan For Toll-Free Bridge

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (AP)—Mayor James McIntyre sent a telegram Tuesday to U.S. Rep. Victor A. Knox, backing the Michigan Republican's efforts to have tolls removed from the bridge across the Straits of Mackinac in northern Michigan.

The mayor said Canadians in this area appreciate Knox's efforts, adding that the $3.75 one-way toll on the bridge is an obstacle to travel between the U. S midwest and Canada.

Knox and Rep. John B. Bennett, also of Michigan, have announced plans to introduce legislation to remove the tolls.

Michigan Bids For NASA Site

WASHINGTON (AP) — Led by Gov. George Romney, a Michigan delegation Tuesday made its pitch to locate a proposed $50 million electronics research center in the southeastern part of the state.

Romney told George Simpson, assistant director of National Space and Aeronautics Administration (NASA), that Michigan has "tremendous competence" to do the research job required by NASA.

NASA had originally picked Boston as site for the center, but was ordered by Congress to conduct a national survey before making a final decision.

The Michigan delegation argued that the logical site for the center would be in a triangle of Lansing, Jackson, Ann Arbor and Detroit; close to a pool of scientific and technical manpower, and a huge industrial complex that is united in its support of the center.

The group described research work done at Michigan's four major universities, and cited the academic excellence of neighboring states. Harlan Hatcher, president of the University of Michigan, pointed out that Michigan, Ohio, Illinois, Wisconsin, and Indiana awarded 994 Ph. D. degrees in engineering and physical sciences in 1962.

Muskegon Squall Sets Records In Snow Deluge

Nearly 18 inches of snow fell in the last 24-hour period covered by the Muskegon Weather Bureau. "In the next six hours, almost every hour will be succeeding the record," a spokesman said.

More than 30 inches of snow covered the ground. Forecasts said snow squalls could continue through Friday.

The snowfall broke two records: the 24-hour deluge of nearly 18 inches far surpassed the 12.6 inches that fell during the night and morning of Dec. 9-10, 1962. And, the squall brought the total snowfall for the month past the December record of 54.2 inches in 1962.

Seaway Tonnage Up 20 Per Cent

DETROIT (AP)—The St. Lawrence Seaway carried 31 million tons of cargo this season, or 20.6 per cent more than last season, Joseph H. McCann, administrator of the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp., estimated Tuesday.

McCann told a news conference final figures are expected to show such an increase over last season's cargo of 25.6 million tons.

McCann said that while the increase was higher than ever anticipated this should not be called unusual.

"Rather," he said, "I see it as the first year in which the seaway's true potential began to emerge."

He said he anticipated further yearly increases until the seaway willl be bearing 50 million tons of annual cargo "some time in the early 1970."

McCann said wheat shipments, including Canadian shipments to Soviet Russia, totaled 6 million tons compared to 4.9 million last year. He said, however, that wheat was "only one segment of a generally good season." He said wheat movement in 1961 was a record 6.5 million tons. Both iron ore and general cargoes climbed this year over last year, he said.

Iron ore shipments totaled 8 million last year and 4 million in 1961. General cargo increased 20 per cent this year for a 3-million-ton total compared to 2.5 million last year, McCann said.

McCann said the seaway had four-million-ton months this season, compared to none at all in past seasons. November was the highest month for shipments—4.2 million tons.

Defense Chief's Jet Blows Tires Avoiding Crash

McNamara's big K135 Air Force jet transport blew its tires when the pilot braked to avoid hitting an incoming plane.

The defense secretary had attended the annual winter meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization ministerial council. He is going to Saigon for his second on-the-spot assessment in three months of the Vietnamese and American fight against the Communist guerrillas.

With blown tires smoking, the big plane rolled to a stop about 500 feet from the end of the long Orly runway.

The plane had been cleared for takeoff in a fog and was rolling down the runway when Capt. Meredith Sutton at the controls saw a large passenger plane land directly in line with the K135's takeoff path, a member of the American party said.

Sutton shut off all power and hit the brakes. The tires exploded under the strain and the huge jet bumped down to a stop.

"We were almost at the point of no return," a member of the party said. "Another few seconds and the pilot could not have stopped in time."

President Johnson is known to be gravely concerned that the successes of the Viet Cong Communists have continued since a military coup overthrew President Ngo Dinh Diem a month after McNamara's last visit.

Since the military's assumption of power Nov. 1, Guerrilla attacks have risen sharply, with heavy losses in men and equipment by South Vietnamese forces.

McNamara was reported to have decided on the trip to investigate whether the military junta can reverse the pattern.

Bodies Of Four In Fire Ruins

HESPERIA (AP) — Authorities ruled triple murder and suicide today in the deaths of a former mental patient, his wife and their two daughters at their house trailer home in this Newaygo County community.

Coroner George Kroeze reported the ruling following and autopsy by Dr. Charles Black, state pathologist.

The victims were Robert J. Bols, 44; his wife, Evelyn, 49, and their daughters Alexie, 14, and Daryl, 3.

All were discovered Tuesday in the ruins of their fire destroyed trailer.

State police said Bols died of a bullet in the head. His wife died of a blow on the head and carbon monoxide poisoning which also claimed the lives of the children.

Legislature Set For Final Spurt

LANSING (AP) — The legislature readied itself today for the final push on bills implementing the new Constitution, with the Civil Rights Commission and the State Appeals Court topping issues still unresolved.

Both bills were debated and amended extensively in the House Tuesday, before being moved into position for action ahead of today's deadline for final passage of all bills.

Many lawmakers appeared willing to declare a truce on the civil rights bill and leave it up to a court decision to settle questions concerning the commission's powers.

It was likely that the court of appeals bill, however, would go to a House - Senate conference committee, as a result of another switch in plans for districting the court.

Already having extended its deadline one day, the legislature was expected to spend Thursday in conference committees on unsettled issues and then adjourn.

A series of amendments proposed by the House State Affairs Committee was added to the Civil Rights Commission bill in the House, where members debated whether the legislature was trying to restrict the commission.

"This issue is packed with a great deal of emotionalism across the nation," declared Rep. Frederic Marshall, R-Allen, who advocated several of the amendments.

"This committee and this legislature is not trying to harpoon the commission," he said.

Texas Merchant Killed By His Burglar Trap

He stumbled a front counter and died. The charge struck him in the chest.

A pistol mounted in the same fashion killed an ex-convict, 21, in 1959 as he started inside the store at night. A shotgun charge took the life of a 19-year-old prowler in 1961 when he touched some cigarettes back of a counter.

Russell himself suffered a wound from the pistol in 1960. Police said this caused him to remove the pistol trap but he set the shotgun after another burglary of the store, in suburban Everman.

The store's butcher, J.E. Riley, 61, said Russell obviously forgot about the 12-gauge shotgun. He was taking a box of trash outside.

Final Action On Bill Sought Before Holiday

WASHINGTON (AP) — The foreign aid program headed into a new Senate fight today.

The stage for a new round of debate was set when the Senate Appropriations Committee Tuesday approved a measure carrying $3,299,500,000 in new appropriations for overseas assistance — as compared with the $2,801,700,000 the House voted Monday.

The Senate group also dropped a House amendment that would prohibit the government from guaranteeing private financing of any sales of U.S. grain to Communist bloc countries.

More Cuts Possible

But other proponents of the program conceded there was a possibility of further cuts before the Senate sends the measure to a conference with the House for ironing out differences between Senate and House versions.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said the final compromise probably would be in the neighborhood of $3 billion in new money and $209 million in carryover funds, compared with the late President John F. Kennedy's request for $4.5 billion.

Grain Deal Involved

In addition to efforts to trim money from the committee bill, a major fight may center on an effort by Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., apppealing the committee's action deleting the House amendment prohibiting the Export-Import Bank from guaranteeing repayment of credits private American banks grant to Communist purchasers of U.S. grains and other surplus farm commodities.

Mundt said he would ask for a separate roll-call vote on the issue. He was defeated when he offered a similar proposal as a separate bill Nov. 26. The measure was tabled, thus killed, by a 57-35 vote.

African Group Claims Russians Killed Student

MOSCOW (AP)—About four hundred Ghanian students demonstrated in front of their embassy today to protest against the death of a student they said had been killed by a Russian.

The students placarded the embassy with signs. One of them, carrying the words "Russian friendship," showed an African student with a knife driven into his back.

The dead student was Asare Addo, but demonstrators could not say when or where he had been killed or under what circumstances.

Some of the students said Soviet authorities had issued a statement saying Addo died of natural causes, but they disputed this.

It was the second protest by African students in a Soviet bloc country this year. In February, several hundred rioted in Sofia, Bulgaria, when police broke up a demonstration protesting a government ban on an African students' union. Many of the 500 African students in Bulgaria left the country.

The Soviet Union also has had troublesome incidents from time to time involving African and Asian students.

Economist New Finnish Premier

The 20-month-old government of Premier Ahti Karjalainen resigned Tuesday after two small parties refused to accept a tax program the premier said was necessary to balance Finland's economy.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — The last Studebaker automobile to be produced in the United States will roll off the assembly line in South Bend Thursday or Friday, triggering a mammoth layoff of workers.

President Byers A. Burlingame said at a news conference Tuesday that about 4,000 workers will be dismissed as the firm ends auto production in South Bend, transferring all such work to its Hamilton, Ont., plant.

Burlingame said Studebaker's South Bend employment, now at about 6,500 will be down to about 2,700 by the end of the year. Another 1,000 workers will be laid off early next year, he added, leaving a added, leaving a permanent South Bend work force of some 1,700.

Those workers will produce parts to service Studebaker dealers and the new autos which will be built in Hamilton.

Faulty Furnace Fumes Fatal To Family Of Four

CADILLAC (AP) — Carbon monoxide from a faulty furnace killed a family of four in its one-story home on Lake Mitchell here, state police said today.

Discovered in their beds Tuesday evening after futile attempts by a relative to call them by telephone were Jerry Tuttle, 21, his wife, Bonnie, 20, and their sons, Robert, 1, and Charles, 3 months.

Medical examination ruled them victims of asphyxiation by carbon monoxide poisoning. It indicated the family had been dead at least 12 hours when discovered.

State police were told by a Michigan Gas Co. serviceman that the floor-type propane gas furnace and hookup to the flue were defective.

Mrs. Tuttle's mother, Mrs. Alvin Hillard of rural Cadillac, said her daughter had visited a doctor Dec. 16 and complained of dizziness and headaches.

She also said the couple had complained about the furnace for a month and that her son-in-law had replaced a worn pipe from the furnace to the chimney Monday.

Tuttle was employed at Malleable Iron Co. here.

New Commission

JACKSON (AP)—Creation of a 15-member Human Relations Commission became official Tuesday night in a unanimous vote of the city council. Attorney Alvin Dahlem was named commission chairman.

Seaway Tonnage Up 20 Per Cent

DETROIT (AP)—The St. Lawrecence Seaway carried 31 million tons of cargo this season, or 20.6 per cent more than last season, Joseph H. McCann, administrator of the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp., estimated Tuesday.

McCann told a news conference final figures are expected to show such an increase over last season's cargo of 25.6 million tons.

McCann said that while the increase was higher than ever anticipated this should not be called unusual.

"Rather," he said, "I see it as the first year in which the seaway's true potential began to emerge."

He said he anticipated further yearly increases until the seaway willl be bearing 50 million tons of annual cargo "some time in the early 1970."

McCann said wheat shipments, including Canadian shipments to Soviet Russia, totaled 6 million tons compared to 4.9 million last year. He said, however, that wheat was "only one segment of a generally good season." He said wheat movement in 1961 was a record 6.5 million tons. Both iron ore and general cargoes climbed this year over last year, he said.

Iron ore shipments totaled 8 million last year and 4 million in 1961. General cargo increased 20 per cent this year for a 3-million-ton total compared to 2.5 million last year, McCann said.

McCann said the seaway had four-million-ton months this season, compared to none at all in past seasons. November was the highest month for shipments—4.2 million tons.

Soo, Ont., Mayor Backs Plan For Toll-Free Bridge

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (AP)—Mayor James McIntyre sent a telegram Tuesday to U.S. Rep. Victor A. Knox, backing the Michigan Republican's efforts to have tolls removed from the bridge across the Straits of Mackinac in northern Michigan.

The mayor said Canadians in this area appreciate Knox's efforts, adding that the $3.75 one-way toll on the bridge is an obstacle to travel between the U. S midwest and Canada.

Knox and Rep. John B. Bennett, also of Michigan, have announced plans to introduce legislation to remove the tolls.

Michigan Bids For NASA Site

WASHINGTON (AP) — Led by Gov. George Romney, a Michigan delegation Tuesday made its pitch to locate a proposed $50 million electronics research center in the southeastern part of the state.

Romney told George Simpson, assistant director of National Space and Aeronautics Administration (NASA), that Michigan has "tremendous competence" to do the research job required by NASA.

NASA had originally picked Boston as site for the center, but was ordered by Congress to conduct a national survey before making a final decision.

The Michigan delegation argued that the logical site for the center would be in a triangle of Lansing, Jackson, Ann Arbor and Detroit; close to a pool of scientific and technical manpower, and a huge industrial complex that is united in its support of the center.

The group described research work done at Michigan's four major universities, and cited the academic excellence of neighboring states. Harlan Hatcher, president of the University of Michigan, pointed out that Michigan, Ohio, Illinois, Wisconsin, and Indiana awarded 994 Ph. D. degrees in engineering and physical sciences in 1962.

Muskegon Squall Sets Records In Snow Deluge

Nearly 18 inches of snow fell in the last 24-hour period covered by the Muskegon Weather Bureau. "In the next six hours, almost every hour will be succeeding the record," a spokesman said.

More than 30 inches of snow covered the ground. Forecasts said snow squalls could continue through Friday.

The snowfall broke two records: the 24-hour deluge of nearly 18 inches far surpassed the 12.6 inches that fell during the night and morning of Dec. 9-10, 1962. And, the squall brought the total snowfall for the month past the December record of 54.2 inches in 1962.

Defense Chief's Jet Blows Tires Avoiding Crash

McNamara's big K135 Air Force jet transport blew its tires when the pilot braked to avoid hitting an incoming plane.

The defense secretary had attended the annual winter meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization ministerial council. He is going to Saigon for his second on-the-spot assessment in three months of the Vietnamese and American fight against the Communist guerrillas.

With blown tires smoking, the big plane rolled to a stop about 500 feet from the end of the long Orly runway.

The plane had been cleared for takeoff in a fog and was rolling down the runway when Capt. Meredith Sutton at the controls saw a large passenger plane land directly in line with the K135's takeoff path, a member of the American party said.

Sutton shut off all power and hit the brakes. The tires exploded under the strain and the huge jet bumped down to a stop.

"We were almost at the point of no return," a member of the party said. "Another few seconds and the pilot could not have stopped in time."

President Johnson is known to be gravely concerned that the successes of the Viet Cong Communists have continued since a military coup overthrew President Ngo Dinh Diem a month after McNamara's last visit.

Since the military's assumption of power Nov. 1, Guerrilla attacks have risen sharply, with heavy losses in men and equipment by South Vietnamese forces.

McNamara was reported to have decided on the trip to investigate whether the military junta can reverse the pattern.

Bodies Of Four In Fire Ruins

HESPERIA (AP) — Authorities ruled triple murder and suicide today in the deaths of a former mental patient, his wife and their two daughters at their house trailer home in this Newaygo County community.

Coroner George Kroeze reported the ruling following and autopsy by Dr. Charles Black, state pathologist.

The victims were Robert J. Bols, 44; his wife, Evelyn, 49, and their daughters Alexie, 14, and Daryl, 3.

All were discovered Tuesday in the ruins of their fire destroyed trailer.

State police said Bols died of a bullet in the head. His wife died of a blow on the head and carbon monoxide poisoning which also claimed the lives of the children.

Legislature Set For Final Spurt

LANSING (AP) — The legislature readied itself today for the final push on bills implementing the new Constitution, with the Civil Rights Commission and the State Appeals Court topping issues still unresolved.

Both bills were debated and amended extensively in the House Tuesday, before being moved into position for action ahead of today's deadline for final passage of all bills.

Many lawmakers appeared willing to declare a truce on the civil rights bill and leave it up to a court decision to settle questions concerning the commission's powers.

It was likely that the court of appeals bill, however, would go to a House - Senate conference committee, as a result of another switch in plans for districting the court.

Already having extended its deadline one day, the legislature was expected to spend Thursday in conference committees on unsettled issues and then adjourn.

A series of amendments proposed by the House State Affairs Committee was added to the Civil Rights Commission bill in the House, where members debated whether the legislature was trying to restrict the commission.

"This issue is packed with a great deal of emotionalism across the nation," declared Rep. Frederic Marshall, R-Allen, who advocated several of the amendments.

"This committee and this legislature is not trying to harpoon the commission," he said.

Texas Merchant Killed By His Burglar Trap

He stumbled a front counter and died. The charge struck him in the chest.

A pistol mounted in the same fashion killed an ex-convict, 21, in 1959 as he started inside the store at night. A shotgun charge took the life of a 19-year-old prowler in 1961 when he touched some cigarettes back of a counter.

Russell himself suffered a wound from the pistol in 1960. Police said this caused him to remove the pistol trap but he set the shotgun after another burglary of the store, in suburban Everman.

The store's butcher, J.E. Riley, 61, said Russell obviously forgot about the 12-gauge shotgun. He was taking a box of trash outside.

Final Action On Bill Sought Before Holiday

WASHINGTON (AP) — The foreign aid program headed into a new Senate fight today.

The stage for a new round of debate was set when the Senate Appropriations Committee Tuesday approved a measure carrying $3,299,500,000 in new appropriations for overseas assistance — as compared with the $2,801,700,000 the House voted Monday.

The Senate group also dropped a House amendment that would prohibit the government from guaranteeing private financing of any sales of U.S. grain to Communist bloc countries.

More Cuts Possible

But other proponents of the program conceded there was a possibility of further cuts before the Senate sends the measure to a conference with the House for ironing out differences between Senate and House versions.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said the final compromise probably would be in the neighborhood of $3 billion in new money and $209 million in carryover funds, compared with the late President John F. Kennedy's request for $4.5 billion.

Grain Deal Involved

In addition to efforts to trim money from the committee bill, a major fight may center on an effort by Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., apppealing the committee's action deleting the House amendment prohibiting the Export-Import Bank from guaranteeing repayment of credits private American banks grant to Communist purchasers of U.S. grains and other surplus farm commodities.

Mundt said he would ask for a separate roll-call vote on the issue. He was defeated when he offered a similar proposal as a separate bill Nov. 26. The measure was tabled, thus killed, by a 57-35 vote.

African Group Claims Russians Killed Student

MOSCOW (AP)—About four hundred Ghanian students demonstrated in front of their embassy today to protest against the death of a student they said had been killed by a Russian.

The students placarded the embassy with signs. One of them, carrying the words "Russian friendship," showed an African student with a knife driven into his back.

The dead student was Asare Addo, but demonstrators could not say when or where he had been killed or under what circumstances.

Some of the students said Soviet authorities had issued a statement saying Addo died of natural causes, but they disputed this.

It was the second protest by African students in a Soviet bloc country this year. In February, several hundred rioted in Sofia, Bulgaria, when police broke up a demonstration protesting a government ban on an African students' union. Many of the 500 African students in Bulgaria left the country.

The Soviet Union also has had troublesome incidents from time to time involving African and Asian students.

Economist New Finnish Premier

The 20-month-old government of Premier Ahti Karjalainen resigned Tuesday after two small parties refused to accept a tax program the premier said was necessary to balance Finland's economy.

Santa Visits Rotary Party

Santa visited the annual Christmas Party for crippled and handicapped youngsters of the Escanaba area Tuesday noon, sponsored by the Rotary Club, and distributed gifts to all of the boys and girls who were guests of the club at luncheon at the House of Ludington.

The children were welcomed by Robert Mosenfelder, Rotary Club president, and Rotarian Walter Bright, superintendent of schools, introduced the public schools staff who work with the crippled and handicapped boys and girls in the special education department.

The guests included Miss Anona Anderson, Miss Anita Kotila, Mrs. Melba Bramer, Mrs. Jean Yanitsky, Howard Dufour, Paul Vardigan, who teaches the oral deaf, and Clarence Moore, physical therapist.

Entertainment included a group of Christmas songs by the Luther Singers, a group of boys of Immanuel Lutheran Church directed by the Rev. Gordon Thorpe.

The arrival of Santa and the distribution of toys to the children of the special rooms climaxed the program. One of the Rotary club's major projects is assistance to the handicapped children of the community, including sponsorship of Rotary Camp Harstad.

WLST Contributes Tree Of Lights To Yule Decor

The most striking rooftop decoration of Escanaba's Christmas is the tree of lights erected by Radio Station WLST on the antenna of its communications system with its mobile news cruiser.

The 25 foot spar of the antenna has been used to drape strings of colored lights to the roof and 500 lights create a cone of holiday illumination.

Because the antenna is set back from the front line of the Escanaba Daily Press building which houses WLST the "tree" is best seen from a distance.

Italian Regime Gets OK Vote

ROME (AP)—With his first confidence vote safely behind him, Italian Premier Aldo Moro turned to the Senate today for final parliamentary confirmation of his center-left government.

The Senate was expected to endorse the government in a vote next week.

Moro won the confidence vote in the chamber of deputies Tuesday night, 350-233.

Fuel Industry Planning Assn.

Representatives of companies and trade associations in the liquid and solid fuels business in the Upper Peninsula and Northeastern Wisconsin meeting last night at the House of Ludington created a committee to plan organization of a promotional agency.

The committeemen are Philip Oakwood, of DePere, Wis., vice president of Gustafson Oil Co.; representing oil industry interests; Atty. John Boeschenstein of Muskegon, representing trucking interests; and F. M. Reinhardt of Sheboygan, Wis., of the C. Reiss Coal Co., representing coal industry interests.

The group will meet Friday in Green Bay to plan incoporation of the new association and to draft a budget for its operation to present to the full membership at an organization meeting planned for early January.

The new organization will define and present to the public in a continuing educational campaign the competitive position of solid and liquid fuels in the economy of the area. Most of the public presentations in recent years have been about the potentials of natural gas, but the area still has no natural gas service and the development of new elements in the iron mining industry have been fueled with oil and coal.

Northern Natural Gas Co., of Omaha has proposed the building of a natural gas pipe line into the Upper Peninsula from the Duluth area, but there is no formal application for such a line before the Federal Power Commission, which earlier gave a permit to Michigan Gas & Electric Co., which built no line.

U-M Team Finds Much To Praise In New School

Praise and critical suggestion were mingled by three University of Michigan staff men who visited the new Escanaba Area High School recently as part of the procedure for accreditation of the High School by the University of Michigan and the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The accreditation team is composed of Kent W. Leach, director of the U. of M. Bureau of School Services; Kenneth E. Vance, executive secretary, Michigan Association of School Libraries; and George E. Mills, general consultant.

The High School is now and has for many years been accredited, which gains for its graduates certain advantages in evaluation for college entrance.

Supt. Walter Bright told the Escanaba Area School Board last night that the "only critical area" in the accreditation evaluation is the deficiency in counseling. Unless this deficiency is corrected accreditation may be withheld another year.

Diversified Program

The board of education received the report and referred it to a special curriculum study committee, composed of citizens, staff people, and school board members. This committee is headed by George S. Douglas, manager of the Escanaba Division of Mead Corp.

Some of the comments by Leach, Vance and Mills of the University of Michigan:

The new high school "in the main" is an "outstanding one," and the library and its facilities are exceptionally good. "The music department has a good balance between band, orchestra and vocal program." The art room showed intelligent planning.

"Every attempt is being made to have a diversified industrial arts program for the boys. Woodworking, metal working, machine shop, mechanical drawing, welding, and power mechanics are all available as elective courses." The cooperative program seems to be successful and homemaking rooms were attractive and provided enough space for the general projects.

Unusually Fine

The suggestion was made that an assistant principal and an additional counselor be added to the staff. The counselors are now devoting some of their time to administrative details normally covered by the office of assistant principal.

"The friendly, professional attidue of the English teachers" impressed Vance.

"The new library is one of the most attractive facilities I have seen in the state," he added. "Mrs. Gilbert is to be commended on the excellent job she has done as a librarian." Vance also suggested that additional adult assistance is needed in the library.

Vance said he was "very favorably impressed by the new school building. Certain parts of this building, such as the library and the language laboratory, are unusually fine facilities. What is to be seen in your building will undoubtedly have a great and good influence upon school plant construction in the Upper Peninsula."

Behavior Good

"Student behavior, as I observed it in the halls and classrooms, was generally good. The faculty seemed to be interested in their work; the adjustments necessary in moving to the new building are being made quite well."

The suggestion was made by Vance that the foreign language offering be for at least three years.

"Most language people consider three to four years of one modern foreign language to be preferable to two years in each of two languages," Vance said. "Since this visitor was most favorably impressed by what he saw in the French classes taught in your school, it might be good to consider expanding your offerings in that language in the near future."

Additional counselor service and an evaluation of the curriculum were also suggested.

Yule Party For Carriers

Santa Claus was very much in evidence in spirit at the annual Escanaba Daily Press newspaper carrier Christmas party at the Sherman Hotel last night!

More than 75 carriers from the Escanaba-Gladstone area were entertained at a dinner and program which included the showing of old time movies. Seldom have Laurel and Hardy, for instance, had such a responsive audience.

Appropriately enough, Tom Koch, who carries Route No. 1 in Escanaba, won the No. 1 prize.

Dennis Wood, who carries Route No. 37, won the second prize, and Richard Kobasic, Route No. 15, was the third award winner.

The grand door prize . . . a 15-pound turkey . . . went to Bart Stupak, Route No. 104, Gladstone.

George Coan, circulation manager of the Escanaba Daily Press, presided and brief remarks were made by James G. Ward, Jr., Press general manager, and Edward Q. McCarthy, national advertising manager of the Press.

Motion pictures, a smorgasbord dinner and Christmas gifts to each carrier in addition to the special prizes, highlighted the evening.

Escapers Caught

JACKSON (AP)—State Police Tuesday captured two inmates who walked away from a Southern Michigan Prison parole camp. Nabbed 12 hours after their escape were Robert Swiderski, 29, of Detroit, and Charles Sanders, also, 29, of Crawford County. They were picked up at Rives Junction, 18 miles from Jackson.

Franklin School Need Continues

The problem of the Franklin School building replacement is compounded and solution is further delayed because of the rejection by the voters of the bonding proposal in Monday's special election, the Escanaba Area Public Schools' board of education said last night.

No formal statement was made by the board in connection with the defeat of the proposition to bond the district for $270,000 to finance the new elementary school.

Dr. William Hemes, president of the board, and other members of the board, expressed appreciation to Claude Bohn, coordinator, and others who worked and supported the bond issue to replace the Franklin School. A resolution commending Bohn was adopted by the board.

Study Committees

The school board canvassed the vote, which was unchanged from the unofficial figures previously reported. The proposition lost by 257 votes—1378 yes to 1635 no.

Dr. Hemes expressed appreciation to the groups of citizens who have accepted an invitation to serve on special curriculum and finance study committees. He said that the finance committee is still in process of organization.

Mrs. John Fawcett, chairman pro-tem of the curriculum committee, told the school board last night that a meeting will be held at 2 p. m. Dec. 30 in the Senior High School at which the committee will receive suggestions from EHS graduates now attending college.

"Our hope is that the young people will bring the committee information that will help us improve the curriculum," she said. "The hope is that in the future our graduates will be better prepared to enter the field of their choice. Education is a tool. We want it to be a sharp one."

Public Body

Jack Manning of the school board made a preliminary report on transportation, including a request of the bus drivers for higher pay. The report will become part of the consideration of school budget, which is to be reviewed by the special committee on finance now in organization.

Government students of the Escanaba Area High attended the meeting of the school board and were welcomed by Dr. open to the public.

Hemes, who pointed out that board meetings are always

Frank Bender Jr. explained to the government students that the board, as elected representatives of all the people, can not meet privately with special interest groups such as the Delta County Taxpayers Committee, which had opposed the Franklin School bond issue.

Dr. Hemes commented that the Taxpayers Committee had never asked the board for a public meeting to discuss the Franklin School or other school affairs.

"Every attempt is being made to have a diversified industrial arts program for the boys. Woodworking, metal working, machine shop, mechanical drawing, welding, and power mechanics are all available as elective courses." The cooperative program seems to be successful and homemaking rooms were attractive and provided enough space for the general projects.

Unusually Fine

The suggestion was made that an assistant principal and an additional counselor be added to the staff. The counselors are now devoting some of their time to administrative details normally covered by the office of assistant principal.

"The friendly, professional attidue of the English teachers" impressed Vance.

"The new library is one of the most attractive facilities I have seen in the state," he added. "Mrs. Gilbert is to be commended on the excellent job she has done as a librarian." Vance also suggested that additional adult assistance is needed in the library.

Vance said he was "very favorably impressed by the new school building. Certain parts of this building, such as the library and the language laboratory, are unusually fine facilities. What is to be seen in your building will undoubtedly have a great and good influence upon school plant construction in the Upper Peninsula."

Behavior Good

"Student behavior, as I observed it in the halls and classrooms, was generally good. The faculty seemed to be interested in their work; the adjustments necessary in moving to the new building are being made quite well."

The suggestion was made by Vance that the foreign language offering be for at least three years.

"Most language people consider three to four years of one modern foreign language to be preferable to two years in each of two languages," Vance said. "Since this visitor was most favorably impressed by what he saw in the French classes taught in your school, it might be good to consider expanding your offerings in that language in the near future."

Additional counselor service and an evaluation of the curriculum were also suggested.

Yule Party For Carriers

Santa Claus was very much in evidence in spirit at the annual Escanaba Daily Press newspaper carrier Christmas party at the Sherman Hotel last night!

More than 75 carriers from the Escanaba-Gladstone area were entertained at a dinner and program which included the showing of old time movies. Seldom have Laurel and Hardy, for instance, had such a responsive audience.

Appropriately enough, Tom Koch, who carries Route No. 1 in Escanaba, won the No. 1 prize.

Dennis Wood, who carries Route No. 37, won the second prize, and Richard Kobasic, Route No. 15, was the third award winner.

The grand door prize . . . a 15-pound turkey . . . went to Bart Stupak, Route No. 104, Gladstone.

George Coan, circulation manager of the Escanaba Daily Press, presided and brief remarks were made by James G. Ward, Jr., Press general manager, and Edward Q. McCarthy, national advertising manager of the Press.

Motion pictures, a smorgasbord dinner and Christmas gifts to each carrier in addition to the special prizes, highlighted the evening.

Escapers Caught

JACKSON (AP)—State Police Tuesday captured two inmates who walked away from a Southern Michigan Prison parole camp. Nabbed 12 hours after their escape were Robert Swiderski, 29, of Detroit, and Charles Sanders, also, 29, of Crawford County. They were picked up at Rives Junction, 18 miles from Jackson.

Franklin School Need Continues

The problem of the Franklin School building replacement is compounded and solution is further delayed because of the rejection by the voters of the bonding proposal in Monday's special election, the Escanaba Area Public Schools' board of education said last night.

No formal statement was made by the board in connection with the defeat of the proposition to bond the district for $270,000 to finance the new elementary school.

Dr. William Hemes, president of the board, and other members of the board, expressed appreciation to Claude Bohn, coordinator, and others who worked and supported the bond issue to replace the Franklin School. A resolution commending Bohn was adopted by the board.

Study Committees

The school board canvassed the vote, which was unchanged from the unofficial figures previously reported. The proposition lost by 257 votes—1378 yes to 1635 no.

Dr. Hemes expressed appreciation to the groups of citizens who have accepted an invitation to serve on special curriculum and finance study committees. He said that the finance committee is still in process of organization.

Mrs. John Fawcett, chairman pro-tem of the curriculum committee, told the school board last night that a meeting will be held at 2 p. m. Dec. 30 in the Senior High School at which the committee will receive suggestions from EHS graduates now attending college.

"Our hope is that the young people will bring the committee information that will help us improve the curriculum," she said. "The hope is that in the future our graduates will be better prepared to enter the field of their choice. Education is a tool. We want it to be a sharp one."

Public Body

Jack Manning of the school board made a preliminary report on transportation, including a request of the bus drivers for higher pay. The report will become part of the consideration of school budget, which is to be reviewed by the special committee on finance now in organization.

Government students of the Escanaba Area High attended the meeting of the school board and were welcomed by Dr. Hemes, who pointed out that board meetings are always open to the public.

Frank Bender Jr. explained to the government students that the board, as elected representatives of all the people, can not meet privately with special interest groups such as the Delta County Taxpayers Committee, which had opposed the Franklin School bond issue.

Dr. Hemes commented that the Taxpayers Committee had never asked the board for a public meeting to discuss the Franklin School or other school affairs.

Fuel Industry Planning Assn.

Representatives of companies and trade associations in the liquid and solid fuels business in the Upper Peninsula and Northeastern Wisconsin meeting last night at the House of Ludington created a committee to plan organization of a promotional agency.

The committeemen are Philip Oakwood, of DePere, Wis., vice president of Gustafson Oil Co.; representing oil industry interests; Atty. John Boeschenstein of Muskegon, representing trucking interests; and F. M. Reinhardt of Sheboygan, Wis., of the C. Reiss Coal Co., representing coal industry interests.

The group will meet Friday in Green Bay to plan incoporation of the new association and to draft a budget for its operation to present to the full membership at an organization meeting planned for early January.

The new organization will define and present to the public in a continuing educational campaign the competitive position of solid and liquid fuels in the economy of the area. Most of the public presentations in recent years have been about the potentials of natural gas, but the area still has no natural gas service and the development of new elements in the iron mining industry have been fueled with oil and coal.

Northern Natural Gas Co., of Omaha has proposed the building of a natural gas pipe line into the Upper Peninsula from the Duluth area, but there is no formal application for such a line before the Federal Power Commission, which earlier gave a permit to Michigan Gas & Electric Co., which built no line.

Sailor Injured; Gets $54,357

A Great Lakes seaman who slipped and fell at the Chicago and North Western ore dock in Escanaba on Nov. 30, 1956, has been awarded $54,357 by a Federal District Court jury in Chicago.

Leonard Ammesmaki, 50, of Superior, Wis., was a member of the crew of the ore carrier Crete of the Interlake Steamship Lines when the accident occurred.

The award for personal injuries is against the steamship line and the North Western Railway is ordered to pay $11,000 of the total for contributory negligence.

Ammesmaki suffered a fractured shoulder and other injuries which he claims caused permanent disability. He spent 5½ months in hospitals.

Returning to his ship from downtown and admittedly imbibing eight beers, Ammesmaki slipped and fell about 12 feet at the North Western dock. It was night and the temperature was 14 degrees.

It was the claim of the plainutiff that the steamship line was negligent in not providing a less hazardous place to board ship, and that the North Western Railway was negligent because water had spilled and made the walkway slippery.

School Vote Autopsy

Escanaba Area School District taxpayers on Monday defeated, 1,378 to 1,635—by 257 votes—a proposal for a 0.45 mill levy for 16 years to build a $270,000, 9-classroom elementary school to replace the razed Franklin School in Escanaba.

The project carried in the City of Escanaba, where it was most actively opposed, but failed in all three outlying township units of the district: Wells, Ford River and Cornell.

But even in defeat the issue picked up more Yes votes than any school proposal since Escanaba Area District voters approved the new high school in 1959. There has been only one major school vote victory in the district since 1959 and that was the voting of 3.8 mills for operation in 1961.

There also was the assumption of the Cornell Township School District debt as the sole salvage of a Sept. 9, 1963 election in which assumption of the Ford River debt and the creation of a school sinking fund were defeated.)

* * *

There have been six school elections since the 1959 vote in which the high school was authorized. The district should not develop a habit of defeat; something is woefully wrong when that happens. Usually the extremes are that the board of education is pitching its educational aims above the community's head, or that the community doesn't understand the needs of modern education. Often the explanation is to be found in some ground midway between these extremes and it is compounded by poor communications. It is also complicated by marginal incomes and commitments to church schools.

The Escanaba Area Board of Education has a duty to present the district's school needs to the people. Before it makes its next proposal to the taxpayers it should be helpful for it to pause in its building planning and devote itself to an educational campaign in the adult community on the problems of modern day public schooling. Few decisions that parents make about the preparation of their children for life will be more important than the one they make about their schooling. There has never been an emphasis upon learning comparable with that of today and it increases.

For the active adults and retirees to use their own experience as a criterion of what's desirable for the community's youth today would be mistaken and harmful. These young people are living in a different world than that in which their parents grew up and it will make much more demand upon them.

* * *

The Escanaba Area has not had an issue more vital to its growth than its modern education policy. It is difficult to reduce this policy to a simplicity, because it should not be divorced from economics, but it must be clear that when the leaders elected by the community to draft school policy cannot muster public support for their plans, the community lacks an effective educational policy.

With enough defeats, the board of education would change character. Monday's defeat was more than a delay in building a schoolhouse. It was the loss of considerable morale in the area's school personnel, and some by the community, too.

It showed a hard core of opposition to schooling that will be impressive to other local government. Schools will find it harder to keep their share of the property tax allocation because the idea has been created that the people don't want to spend any more on schools. The other elements of local government won't be slow to press their advantage in the annual grab for tax rate allocation.

* * *

Another opportunity for the community to support the cause of human enlightenment with its own means, at home, has been lost. The local vacuum thus created will be filled, of course. It all assists the process of federalizing American public schooling. If local communities will not build the schools that are needed and staff them with well-paid, able teachers, the federal government will do it.

It will charge a lot more to do the job than the communities could do it for ourselves, and we won't have much to say about it, but that is the kind of "economy" fostered by the defeat of adequate support for local school systems.

Ask The Dentist

Q. One of my upper front teeth hurts. The dentist says it either must be pulled or have the nerve taken out. Don't teeth turn black when the nerve is taken out?

A. These days, most teeth which have had nerve removal can't be detected by the casual observer, although many do exhibit a slight "off-color."

Those which turn black are rare and due to special conditions. Often they are quite dark before the dentist sees the patient. Other times the individual doesn't complete the prescribed treatment, due to an intervening illness, change of location, etc.

These dark teeth can be returned to normal color by bleaching, or capping with a normal colored crown.

Q. My tooth ached and the dentist said the nerve in it was dead. Why did it ache if the nerve was dead?

A. It's like this Western movie where the bad guys steal a train and rip out the telegraph wires in the little town. The town's "nerve" is thereby cut dead. But outside the town the wire is still there, stretching toward the Big City.

The good guys rush to the outskirts of the little town and send a warning message to the Big City through the intact wire.

The tooth is the little town and the brain is the Big City. A nerve connects the two. Although the nerve within the tooth may be completely destroyed, any irritation beyond the tooth, such as a root abscess, irritates the intact portion of the nerve.

The brain translates every message transmitted by that particular nerve into "TOOTHACHE," no matter where the message originates along the line.

Q. I am 57 years old and I still have most of my teeth. I have lost my upper wisdom teeth but never did get any lower wisdom teeth. Will this cause me any trouble in later years? Thank you for any information you can give me. Mrs. F. G.

A. It is not necessary to remove all wisdom teeth. Indeed, many people never have wisdom teeth. I would advise you to have your dentist take x-rays of the wisdom tooth areas of your lower jaw. He could then tell you what to do because he could tell from the x-rays whether there was a cyst present, or whether the wisdom teeth are affecting the teeth immediately in front of them. Sometimes the wisdom teeth are through the bone, but not covered by soft gum tissue which may or may not be a source of bacterial infection, which could cause you much trouble in later life, or when your body resistence becomes lowered.

Holiday Roulette

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The way all the pressure groups are climbing aboard the Lyndon B. Johnson ranch wagon—often for conflicting reasons—is the political phenomenon of the age.

At first there were some predictions that President Johnson would have heavy opposition from the liberals who in 1960 didn't even want the tall Texan for vice president.

Just two months ago this setniment was so strong that there was much speculation L. B. J. might be dropped as vice presidential candidate on the 1964 Democratic ticket. It took a denial from President Kennedy to stop the rumors.

After Johnson became president, almost his first endorsements came from American Federation of Labor-Congress of Industrial Organizations, Americans for Democratic Action and the 80-organization Leadership Conference on Civil Rights. That ended the liberal revolt against Johnson.

Since that time many special interest groups of all varieties have issued voluntary statements supporting Johnson. Some of these testimonials even come from opposing camps.

For instance, the Citizens Foreign Aid Committee—which is against it—says that since Johnson has pledged strict economy, he will "seize the golden opportunity" to curtail government foreign spending.

Supporters of AID, the government's Agency for International Development, however, cite a speech Johnson made just before he became president, in which he said, "The foreign aid program has been a success . . . We must turn away from those who counsel that the works of peace represent failure."

* * *

U. S. Chamber of Commerce President Edwin P. Neilan wrote Johnson that the Chamber was heartened by the President's emphasis on the need for a tax cut "to stimulate job creating investments."

But now comes James B. Carey of the AFL-CIO Industrial Unions with a statement that, "the recently reported 5.9 per cent unemployment rate emphasizes the need for immediate passage of consumer-oriented tax legislation."

If the new President can satisfy both management and labor on a tax bill, he will indeed have to live up to his billing as the greatest compromiser and fixer of all times.

The curious thing about Johnson's support for fast action on civil rights reform is that it has not yet met serious opposition from the South.

"There," as one political leader puts it, "they recognize that Johnson is 'a wheeler and a dealer.' They'll let him make civil rights speeches to the northerners to win votes. But southerners expect Johnson to soften the blow as it will affect them."

This penchant for wanting to make the new President "our boy" characterizes many endorsements the lobbies now put out.

Thus the American Public Power Assn., and the Co-operative League of the U. S. A., supporting rural electrification and public power, claim Johnson as theirs.

So do the National Education Assn., supporting federal aid for schools and teachers' salaries, the National Council of Senior Citizens supporting medical care for the aged under Social Security, the National Farmers Union, Committee for a National Trade Policy, AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education, National Association of Home Builders supporting private housing industry and others. But there are a few exceptions.

* * *

National Right - to - Work Committee has told its members that Johnson is clearly committed to repeal of section 14(b) of the Taft-Hartley Act. This recognizes the right of the states to enact and enforce local right-to-work laws, which the committee wants retained.

And Rep. Jerry Ford, R-Mich., while endorsing Johnson's promises to defend freedom from communism from Berlin to Viet Nam, declares:

"On the other hand, it should be noticed that the new President endorsed all of the federal spending policies . . . I reserve the right to oppose where conscience dictates."

These are bust first straws in the winter winds to indicate that the honeymoon isn't going to last forever.

State Of Union Message Jan. 8

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson will deliver his State of the Union message to Congress in person Jan. 8, Democratic leaders from the Capitol reported today.

Talking with newsmen after their regular weekly breakfast session at the White House, the party chiefs said the present session of Congress will end Friday or Saturday of this week and the legislators will come back Jan. 7.

They said they still have to talk with the Republican leadership to determine the exact date of adjournment.

Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts said the Democratic leadership still is hopeful and confident that a satisfactory foreign aid appropriation bill ultimately will be approved.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, Senate Democratic leader, said he reported to Johnson that the Senate Finance Committee is making good progress on the tax reduction billl.

First Dividend Checks Go Out To Gls Jan. 2

DETROIT (AP) — The Veterans Administration announced Tuesday that the first GI insurance dividend checks will reach some of Michigan's 194,729 eligible veterans b yJan. 2. and will be completed by Jan. 25.

Michigan veterans will get $9,678,000 of the total $234 million in payments. The announcement followed a directive issued by President Johnson for earliest possible payment.

Korean conflict veterans are not included in the program, because they carry non-participating policies, the announcement said.

SAVING SCHOOL FUNDS

If the over 1,600 "no" voters of last Monday are an indication that many people are poorly informed on Escanaba Area School problems and that they do not trust their own elected leaders in this matter, it is serious. But if these votes represent a victory for Scrooge-like thinking among us it is not only serious. Then, we are involved in a degenerating moral problem. I'm scared!

Our Lord said: "You can not serve God and mammon." In our day mammon largely equals money. Money was made the issue here. Worship of money won out. The kids lost.

The voters of this area are entitled to know that those self appointed watchers of the public purse who call themselves the Taxpayer's Association employ and display at least five characteristics that are common to all pocketbook protectors, in whatever group they are found.

1. They pretend to be protecting the little guy. Don't be fooled . . .

* * *

2. All they talk about is money! It is distressing how completely lacking in their communications are concerns for the welfare of the children, quality of education and esthetic or moral values. Only a money dominated mind would stoop to calling a library in a school a "frill." Money is a helpful commodity, but when it gets to be God, goal, ambition and the only measure of worth and need, we have reached a desperate state. The scriptures warn that the "Love of money is the root of all evils."

3. They can always do it cheaper. And, of course it can be done cheaper. It can always be done cheaper. But, do we really want the cheapest, flimsiest, skimpiest facilities that penny pinching can provide? No! We are interested in value, a commodity which is seldom if ever connected with the cheapest.

4. They are always yelling about the cost of interest. No one denies that interest involves money. But sometimes it is good business to borrow money, especially, as pointed out by the School Board, in the financing of immediate needs. A sinking fund is one acceptable way of financing capital improvements, but it requires the gathering of money in advance of need. The DCTA claims to have had this concern for many years. We could ask these far sighted prophets where they were 5, 10 or more years ago. If they had some of this foresight back then, we wouldn't need to borrow money now.

5. They are always for whatever isn't being proposed, and against what is being considered. You can't win with the pocketbook protectors. If you propose a bonding program they want a sinking fund, and if you propose a sinking fund they want a different amount. The only issue I can remember their supporting was the jail (a last minute change) but then, of course, we had our hand in someone else's pocket.

* * *

I have enough faith in our School Board to be confident that they will welcome counsel on an equal basis from all constituents and will not stoop to bargaining on a clandestine basis with any small divisive group. The DCTA is not above the rest of us, and does not deserve the special privilege of a private meeting with a chosen portion of the Board to press their demands . . .

It will be a sad day for us when that kind of group successfully dictates to the voters and the school board as to what the proposals shall be and how we shall vote . . .

White Pine Ends Development Of Southwest Shaft

R. C. Cole, vice president of Copper Range Co., announces suspension of development work on the southwest copper ore body of the White Pine Mine in Ontonagon County. Personnel now working at the southwest project will be used in increased production from the White Pine Mine.

The southwest shaft will be maintained in operating condition to permit continued technical studies required to design the mine, which will eventually produce ore from this area. The exact timing of resumption of development activities cannot be determined until results of the experimental mining can be evaluated and a mining plan adopted for the southwest orebody.

Improvements in grade control and the discovery of additional ore in the White Pine Mine have permitted the development of plans to increase output from this mine.

Escanaba Area School District taxpayers on Monday defeated, 1,378 to 1,635—by 257 votes—a proposal for a 0.45 mill levy for 16 years to build a $270,000, 9-classroom elementary school to replace the razed Franklin School in Escanaba.

U. S. Chamber of Commerce President Edwin P. Neilan wrote Johnson that the Chamber was heartened by the President's emphasis on the need for a tax cut "to stimulate job creating investments."

But now comes James B. Carey of the AFL-CIO Industrial Unions with a statement that, "the recently reported 5.9 per cent unemployment rate emphasizes the need for immediate passage of consumer-oriented tax legislation."

If the new President can satisfy both management and labor on a tax bill, he will indeed have to live up to his billing as the greatest compromiser and fixer of all times.

The curious thing about Johnson's support for fast action on civil rights reform is that it has not yet met serious opposition from the South.

"There," as one political leader puts it, "they recognize that Johnson is 'a wheeler and a dealer.' They'll let him make civil rights speeches to the northerners to win votes. But southerners expect Johnson to soften the blow as it will affect them."

This penchant for wanting to make the new President "our boy" characterizes many endorsements the lobbies now put out.

Thus the American Public Power Assn., and the Co-operative League of the U. S. A., supporting rural electrification and public power, claim Johnson as theirs.

So do the National Education Assn., supporting federal aid for schools and teachers' salaries, the National Council of Senior Citizens supporting medical care for the aged under Social Security, the National Farmers Union, Committee for a National Trade Policy, AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education, National Association of Home Builders supporting private housing industry and others. But there are a few exceptions.

* * *

National Right - to - Work Committee has told its members that Johnson is clearly committed to repeal of section 14(b) of the Taft-Hartley Act. This recognizes the right of the states to enact and enforce local right-to-work laws, which the committee wants retained.

And Rep. Jerry Ford, R-Mich., while endorsing Johnson's promises to defend freedom from communism from Berlin to Viet Nam, declares:

"On the other hand, it should be noticed that the new President endorsed all of the federal spending policies . . . I reserve the right to oppose where conscience dictates."

These are bust first straws in the winter winds to indicate that the honeymoon isn't going to last forever.

State Of Union Message Jan. 8

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson will deliver his State of the Union message to Congress in person Jan. 8, Democratic leaders from the Capitol reported today.

Talking with newsmen after their regular weekly breakfast session at the White House, the party chiefs said the present session of Congress will end Friday or Saturday of this week and the legislators will come back Jan. 7.

They said they still have to talk with the Republican leadership to determine the exact date of adjournment.

Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts said the Democratic leadership still is hopeful and confident that a satisfactory foreign aid appropriation bill ultimately will be approved.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, Senate Democratic leader, said he reported to Johnson that the Senate Finance Committee is making good progress on the tax reduction billl.

First Dividend Checks Go Out To GIs Jan. 2

DETROIT (AP) — The Veterans Administration announced Tuesday that the first GI insurance dividend checks will reach some of Michigan's 194,729 eligible veterans b yJan. 2. and will be completed by Jan. 25.

Michigan veterans will get $9,678,000 of the total $234 million in payments. The announcement followed a directive issued by President Johnson for earliest possible payment.

Gladstone Motel, a new and strictly modern hospice, a block away from Gladstone's business district, is open to the public today. Ethel and Harrie Markham are the proprietors.

The Escanaba Hawks played the first game of the hockey season at Marquette and lost to that team by a 6-2 score. Though losers, the locals are far from downhearted and showed class that will likely tell a different story before the season is over.

Two former instructors in All Saints Parochial School at Gladstone, Sisters M. Evarista and Marie Noel, are being honored for having been associated with their teaching order for 50 years. The observances will be held at Lake Linden where they are now assigned.

The tug Reliance, missing from Fairport harbor for six days has been officially declared lost. No trace of the boat or its occupants has been found.

Mrs. Helen Wentworth of Panama City, Fla., the former Helen Millar, of Escanaba, was presented a medal of honor, in an impressive ceremony at Tyndall Field, in behalf of her son S-Sgt. Selden Wentworth, who is at present being held prisoner by the Germans.

SAVING SCHOOL FUNDS

If the over 1,600 "no" voters of last Monday are an indication that many people are poorly informed on Escanaba Area School problems and that they do not trust their own elected leaders in this matter, it is serious. But if these votes represent a victory for Scrooge-like thinking among us it is not only serious. Then, we are involved in a degenerating moral problem. I'm scared!

Our Lord said: "You can not serve God and mammon." In our day mammon largely equals money. Money was made the issue here. Worship of money won out. The kids lost.

The voters of this area are entitled to know that those self appointed watchers of the public purse who call themselves the Taxpayer's Association employ and display at least five characteristics that are common to all pocketbook protectors, in whatever group they are found.

1. They pretend to be protecting the little guy. Don't be fooled . . .

* * *

2. All they talk about is money! It is distressing how completely lacking in their communications are concerns for the welfare of the children, quality of education and esthetic or moral values. Only a money dominated mind would stoop to calling a library in a school a "frill." Money is a helpful commodity, but when it gets to be God, goal, ambition and the only measure of worth and need, we have reached a desperate state. The scriptures warn that the "Love of money is the root of all evils."

3. They can always do it cheaper. And, of course it can be done cheaper. It can always be done cheaper. But, do we really want the cheapest, flimsiest, skimpiest facilities that penny pinching can provide? No! We are interested in value, a commodity which is seldom if ever connected with the cheapest.

4. They are always yelling about the cost of interest. No one denies that interest involves money. But sometimes it is good business to borrow money, especially, as pointed out by the School Board, in the financing of immediate needs. A sinking fund is one acceptable way of financing capital improvements, but it requires the gathering of money in advance of need. The DCTA claims to have had this concern for many years. We could ask these far sighted prophets where they were 5, 10 or more years ago. If they had some of this foresight back then, we wouldn't need to borrow money now.

5. They are always for whatever isn't being proposed, and against what is being considered. You can't win with the pocketbook protectors. If you propose a bonding program they want a sinking fund, and if you propose a sinking fund they want a different amount. The only issue I can remember their supporting was the jail (a last minute change) but then, of course, we had our hand in someone else's pocket.

* * *

I have enough faith in our School Board to be confident that they will welcome counsel on an equal basis from all constituents and will not stoop to bargaining on a clandestine basis with any small divisive group. The DCTA is not above the rest of us, and does not deserve the special privilege of a private meeting with a chosen portion of the Board to press their demands . . .

It will be a sad day for us when that kind of group successfully dictates to the voters and the school board as to what the proposals shall be and how we shall vote . . .

MORE BANKRUPTCY

CHICAGO (AP)—Bankruptcy petitions are at an all-time peak.

Voluntary straight bankruptcies led all categories, posting over 128,000 filings compared with 122,000 a year ago.

White Pine Ends Development Of Southwest Shaft

R. C. Cole, vice president of Copper Range Co., announces suspension of development work on the southwest copper ore body of the White Pine Mine in Ontonagon County. Personnel now working at the southwest project will be used in increased production from the White Pine Mine.

The southwest shaft will be maintained in operating condition to permit continued technical studies required to design the mine, which will eventually produce ore from this area. The exact timing of resumption of development activities cannot be determined until results of the experimental mining can be evaluated and a mining plan adopted for the southwest orebody.

Improvements in grade control and the discovery of additional ore in the White Pine Mine have permitted the development of plans to increase output from this mine.

Gains Reported In Conservation Goals For State

Use of natural resources set several new records and challenged a number of others. Long-overdue gains were made in fish, forestry, and game improvement programs. Some problems lingered on to be shouldered by the year ahead.

That, briefly, was the kind of a year 1963 was for conservation in Michigan — something old and something new in the way of progress and problems.

Once again, recreation commanded the outdoor scene, touching off another pell-mell rush for leisure-time facilities throughout the state's woods, waters, and fields. Some 13.5 million day-use visitors and a record 210,000 camping families streamed into state parks during the year. Thousands of others made a beeline to state forests to shake the stresses of a workaday world.

In early December after nine months of intensive investigations, Governor Romney's special 21-man conservation study committee recommended sweeping changes in the Conservation Department's operations, including a complete overhauling of its organizational structure, to better gear the agency's programs to present and future demands.

Michigan sportsmen saw license fees earning double their money's worth during 1963, as hundreds of jobless men went back to work in distressed areas of the state as a result of the Conservation Department's participation in a $1.6 million Accelerated Public Works Program, co-financed by state and federal funds.

Michigan fielded more than 2,000,000 nimrods, archers, and anglers during the 1963 seasons to hold its place among the nation's leaders in hunting and fishing popularity.

For firearm deer hunters, it was the third best year on record, with an estimated 114,500 whitetails in their take-home kill.

Botulism Scare

Prolonged dry weather produced an explosive wild fire threat by mid-October, forcing Governor Romney to issue a statewide no-smoking, no-burning order. For the year, wild fire losses covered more than 8,400 acres, some 2,200 above the 1962 figure.

An outbreak of botulism poisoning from smoked fish in October paralyzed the entire Great Lakes commercial fishing industry and threw a scare into some sport fishermen as well. State and federal authorities quickly took steps to make the future sales of smoked fish safe from botulism, emphasizing that the problem did not apply to fresh, frozen, or commercially canned fish from the Great Lakes area.

Conservation officials of the United States and Canada revealed that first-round chemical treatments of Lake Superior streams has left little doubt as to the ultimate success of lamprey control in these waters. The opening chemical punch delivered in Superior's streams had already left its mark of improvement in 1963. Lake trout stocks continued to show good survival and mature fish were more abundant than at any time within the last four years.

As the end of 1963 neared, there were strong signs that pulpwood production, the state's biggest forest-based industry, had hit a new peak in Michigan, surpassing the previous all-time harvest of 1,256,000 cords.

The Conservation Department received a certificate from the National Rifle Association of America in recognition of its voluntary training program under which more than 50,000 young hunters completed their "schooling" in gun safety and outdoor etiquette since 1960. National honors were awarded to four of the Department's information and education programs by the American Association for Conservation Information.

Iron River's Newest Industry Moving Ahead

IRON RIVER—Iron River's newest industry, Northland Wood Products, which was organized in October by Willis Osborne of Alvin, Wis., has begun shipping its products to Milwaukee and other major market areas.

A truckload of 850 poplar pellets left the plant Thursday bound for a large Milwaukee concern, the second such load to be shipped to the firm.

The two shipments are part of an order of 5,000 pallets which are being manufactured locally for the Milwaukee market. In addition, Northland Wood Products is also manufacturing pallets of various sizes for other firms in major market areas.

Since beginning production in November the new industry has employed up to nine men, although not all on a steady basis. However, Osborne is optimistic that orders will soon require increasing the number of permanent employes.

GUIDED SUBMARINE

The nuclear submarine Skate was guided to an opening in the ice over the Arctic Ocean by an outboard motor. The motorboat, from a scientific research station, circled in the open water and the submarine picked up its put-put-put on sonar equipment, enabling it to surface in the small, ice-free lake.

Kennedy Coin Voted In House

WASHINGTON (AP)

Kennedy: Two memorials to John F. Kennedy advanced in Congress Tuesday as two committees voted to name the proposed national cultural center for the late president and the House approved putting his likeness on half dollars.

Almost identical bills passed by the Senate and House Public Works committees would rename the cultural center as the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts.

By a 352-6 vote the house voted to put the late president's likeness on 50 - cent pieces minted after Jan. 1.

Factory pay: The nation's factory workers earned record hourly and weekly pay during November.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics reported Tuesday that the average hourly earnings of factory workers climbed 2 cents from October to November, when it was $2.49. This was 8 cents above last November.

Weekly earnings hit a new peak of $101.09, 56 cents above October and $3.73 over last November.

Junk mail: The House has approved Rep. Tom Steed's pet bill to let members send so-called "junk mail" free to their own districts.

Passage Tuesday followed the Oklahoma Democrat's apology for linking senators with call girls.

Steed, angered by the Senate's opposition to the bill, told newsmen a few months ago he knew of two call girls on the payroll of an unidentified senator and that senators had a hideaway in their basement for afternoon drinking.

Under the bill, House members can send unaddressed mail free to the folks back home — just by putting an address on it. Senators won't be able to do this, but they say they don't want to.

Corregidor: Congressional action has been completed on a bill that authorizes $1.5 million as the U.S. share in developing a memorial park in the Philippines to honor the World War II defenders of Corregidor and Bataan.

The Senate passed the measure by voice vote Tuesday and sent it to President Johnson.

Baby, 2, Losing Eyesight As Cancer Spreads

DURHAM, N.C. (AP)—Duke University doctors decide today on the treatment of a 2-year-old girl who has cancer in her only eye.

icki Wray was brought to Duke from her home in Bowling Green, S.C., Tuesday for tests to determine how effective radiation and chemical treatments have been in preserving vision and controlling malignancy in her left eye.

Vicki has retinal glastoma, an eye cancer which can spread to other parts of the body. Duke surgeons removed Vicki's right eye last July.

Doctors said Tuesday that if her left eye also has to be removed, the operation possibly can be delayed until after Christmas. They wouldn't speculate on whether surgery would be required.

Vicki's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wray, came here in an old automobile. Wray, a textile worker, earns $45 to $50 weekly. He and his wife, Doris, 32, have seven other children.

The family put up a Christmas tree for Vicki over the weekend. Wray said the other children would have to go without presents to help pay for Vicki's treatment.

Water Softener Racket Revealed

DETROIT (AP)—Two executives of a water softener company and 22 of the firm's salesmen were charged Tuesday with conspiracy to cheat homeowners.

Prosecutor Samuel H. Olsen said the firm, Hallmark Water Conditioning Co., sold equipment to residents by asserting that Detroit's water was "hard, dirty and polluted," and by claiming that a water softener would help persons afflicted with coronary disease and arthritis.

Olsen said both claims were false. He said Hallmark Water Conditioning sold $500,000 worth of equipment since it was formed last August.

Ann Landers

Sex Theory False

Dear Ann Landers: There will be no name or address on this one, Ann, because my husband opens all the mail. Please reply in the paper if you can change the words around and make my letter printable.

My husband's closest friend dropped dead of a heart attack six months ago at the age of 44. This man had always been in excellent health, played a great game of tennis and was a leader in all sorts of civic activities. He had been a bachelor until eight months before his death. His wife was 18 years his junior.

My husband told me the day after the funeral that he is sure his friend's coronary was brought on by his marriage. He claims that sex after a certain age is damaging to the heart.

To come to the point, Ann, my husband hasn't touched me since his friend was buuried and I don't know what to do. There has been no discussion, he just finds excuses to stay up later than I do every night. My husband is 41 and I am 38. Please help me. — OUT OF MY MIND

Dear Out: Your husband's theory is invalid. Some bachelors who marry in their 40's have a far less strenous sex life as husbands than they ever had as bachelors.

The death of your huusband's close friend has obviously had a traumatic effect on him. He should discuss the problem with a doctor at once. Refusal could mean a shattered marriage.

Dear Ann Landers: I was a mother who yelled herself hoarse trying to get my children to do things. One day I woke up to the realization that yelling at children only produces resentment and makes them more hostile than ever.

My husband occasionally would step in and resort to drill sergeant methods. He got surface obedience, but he lost their affection. Finally, together we hit on a totally different technique — and it works!

When punishment is in order our children get it promptly — a swat on the bottom, or the loss of a privilege. We have cut out scolding and nagging and have substituted praise instead. We took the emphasis off the things they did wrong and placed it on the things they did right.

It's hard to believe they are the same kids. Instead of bickering and sulking they cooperate with one another and strive for our approval. Anyone who is grumpy and cross is ignored. The cheerful, pleasant child gets to do interesting things and is rewarded with smiles and hugs and compliments.

This is no fairy tale, Ann, it is a method that actually works. I hope other mothers will try it. —EX-YELLER

Dear Ex-Yeller: Of course it works, but it takes patience and understanding, and many mothers are too immature and short-tempered to try it.

Children respond to approval, affection and suggestion far more readily than they respond to yelling and commands. Thank you for saying it so well. I hope the shriekers will follow your excellent suggestion.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a woman in my 70's and have been very friendly for over thirty years with my next door neighbor. Mrs. X says she is 79 but people who are in a position to know say she is closer to 83.

Mrs. X does not see well and she is as deaf as a doornail. She insists on driving her car everywhere and is forever offering me a ride.

But I'm afraid to ride with her and my children have begged me not to. Strangely enough she has never had an accident, which I think is a miracle. Please tell me what to do. —D. D. E.

Kincheloe Trio Arrested After Speeding Chase

A high-speed chase down U.S. 2-41 between Powers and Menominee Tuesday evening led to the apprehension of three escapees from the stockade at Kincheloe Air Force Base. At times the chase was carried on at speeds up to 120 mph.

The three men were: Richard F. Warden, 20, who was being held in the stockade on a charge of larceny; Mark W. Gavin III, 19, jailed for larceny and AWOL; and Thomas J. Ostrowskie, 19, also serving time for AWOL.

At 10:22 p. m. Tuesday the Gladstone State Police Post received an alert that the three young men had escaped from the Kincheloe stockade about 9 p. m. that night.

At 12:40 a. m. today a car with the three men pulled into the Autoway Truck Stop at 1022 N. 21st St., Escanaba, and asked the attendant, Dean Leroy Head of Perkins, to fill their tank. Head told officers that after putting in 15 gallons of gas the car took off at a high rate of speed without paying for the purchase. He did manage however to get the license number of the vehicle.

Had notified the Gladstone State Police and they in turn called the Escanaba City Police, the Stephenson State Police Post and Menominee city and county law officers to be on the lookout for the trio.

A patrol car from the Stephenson Post intercepted the brown and white 1960 Chevrolet (described by Head) about one mile east of Powers and gave chase. The officers said the trio "threw care to the wind" and drove through Powers, over icy pavement, at 110 mph. They continued at speeds up to 120 mph. until they managed to get out of sight of the patrol car, which had slowed down because of the hazardous driving conditions.

Meanwhile the officers in the patrol car notified the Stephenson Post of what had happened and Troopers Herman Neuman and Robert Pomeroy made plans to intercept the trio. Lighted flares were strewn across the highway at Stephenson, but when the car carrying the three escapees arrived it drove through the flares and the Village of Stephenson at a speed of 100 mph.

The troopers gave chase and followed the car to an area about a quarter-mile south of the Menominee City limits where the Menominee City Police had placed two patrol car across the highway as a blockade. The airmen stopped their car before getting to the blockade and took off on foot, two to the west and one headed east.

Trooper Neuman apprehended two of the escapees hiding behind a house in a wooded area. Tracks of the third man were followed, but the officers lost them in the snow. However, one of the officers flashed a light up into the trees in the general area where thy were searching and spotted the escapee hiding in a tree.

The three men were turned over to the military and returned to Kincheloe Air Base. The car the men were traveling in was owned by another airman who was also serving time in the stockade.

Wheat Program Study Started

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, moving from one national problem to another, sits down today with agriculture leaders in an effort to find agreement on ways to avert a sharp election-year drop in farm income.

Johnson, a rancher himself-summmoned leaders of six national farm organizations to the White House to discuss a new government wheat program.

One is needed, says Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, if wheat farmers' incomes are not to tumble $600 million next year.

So far, the major farm organizations have been unable to agree on a plan.

The American Farm Bureau Federation has been holding out against government controls, while most of the others have endorsed production restrictions.

The organizations invited to send officials include the Farm Bureau Federation, National Grange, National Farmers Union, National Council of Farmer Cooperatives, National Farmers Organization and the Cooperative League of the U.S.A.

Ticketed For Minor Mishap

Darlene Charon, 19, of Rte. 1, Escanaba, was ticketed by State Police for violation of the basic speed law, too fast for conditions, following an accident at 8:25 a. m. today on County Road C-21, about two miles north of the Pine Ridge School.

Officers said that Miss Charon was momentarily distracted and lost control of her car. The vehicle went off the roadway and struck several small trees. She was not injured.

Dowagiac Has City Upheaval

DOWAGIAC (AP)—Dowagiac residents, in the latest episode of what the mayor says is a "breakdown of city government," voted 170-116 Monday to oust an alderman who already had resigned.

And, after losing the city attorney and half of the six members of the city council, Dowagiac citizens were told the largest manufacturer has decided against expanding operations here because of the political upheaval.

A remaining councilman added he is circulating petitions for the recall of Mayor Glenn I. Berry.

Berry has writtten to Gov. George Romney, asking intercession "in this breakdown of city government."

Alderman Milton Shante was the object of Monday's first ward election. A citizens' group alleged that he interfered with public works employes while serving as chairman of the council's public works committee.

William Collins, vice president and general manager of the Dowagiac plant of Rudy Manufacturing Co., the city's largest employer, said he has been ordered by the firm's board of directors not to launch any expansion program. He said the company is planning expansion elsewhere.

He did not say where the expansion would be and declined to comment on the firm's future operations here.

The governor said Monday he referred Berry's letter to the offices of the attorney general, auditor general, secretary of state and director of economic expansion.

The recall petitions are being circulated against Berry by Alderman C. R. Davis, lone Democrat on the council. He contends that Berry barred him from a special council meeting Nov. 18 and denied his right to read a minority report on the council's investigation into the operations of the Public Works Department.

Garden Donors Help Top Quota Of Bloodmobile

Delta County blood donors pushed past their quota of 135 pints at the Tuesday visit of the Badger Blood Bank bloodmobile to the Escanaba Area High School says Mrs. Edward Olson, Red Cross blood program chairman.

The quota for the special visit of the bloodmobile to Delta County was topped by a total donation of 139 points of blood. The clinic had 113 appointments with donors, but only 52 appeared and the rest was contributed by walk-in donors who had not registered previously. The generous pre-Christmas giving of blood kept the unit busy except for a bit of a lull in the dinner hour.

Several factors contributed to the triumph of the blood call. One was the turnout of 20 donors from Garden, who came to replace 20 pints of blood given to a Garden resident recently by the Red Cross Blood Bank. It was all replaced by the gifts of the Garden area group.

Another stimulation to the blood giving was that some of it will be used to replace 26 pints to be used in open heart surgery on a Delta County boy at the University Hospital on Jan. 10.

A third stimulation may have been the 339 pint deficit which Delta County owes to the blood bank. It has used more blood than it has given in 1963. The special clinic Tuesday helped cut the deficit.

Mrs. Olsen said that the bloodmobile will make its first visit of 1964 to Delta County at the James T. Jones School, Gladstone, Tuesday, Feb. 11, when 95 pints will be sought; and on Feb. 12 and 13 in Escanaba, with 135 pints sought each day.

Order Trucks To Use Designated Routes In City

Enforcement of Escanaba's truck route ordinance will be stepped up because of recent complaints of violations, Escanaba Police Chief Harold Finman said today.

The ordinance defines what routes are to be used by trucks in the city as follows:

Highway M-35; U. S. Highway 2 and 41; 3rd Ave. N.; N. 10th St. from 3rd Ave. N.; and 1st Ave. N. from N. 10th St. to N. 4th St.

"No persons shall operate, stop, stand or park any truck or truck-trailer combination having a gross weight greater than 10,000 pounds and/or overall length more than 34 feet on any street in the City of Escanaba except on the established truck route or on the shortest direct route from the truck route to the point of loading or unloading."

Farley Honored For Leadership In United Fund

The campaign chairmen were awarded golden U award pins by Miss Kathleen McLaughlin of Ishpeming, Miss Michigan of 1963.

Specially recognized was John L. Farley, district commercial manager of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and area chairman of the Upper Peninsula for the Michigan United Fund. Farley was recognized for his work throughout the Upper Peninsula to help foster the growth of united campaigns.

Begin Operations At Empire Mine; To Employ 214

NEGAUNEE — A new open pit iron mine and ore processing plant — providing jobs for 214 persons — has begun start-up operations and break-in of equipment at Palmer, just four miles south of Negaunee. Within a reasonable period it is expected the plant will be in full operation.

The Empire Mine is managed by the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. for Empire Mining Co., owned by Inland Steel Co., McLouth Steel Corp., International Harvester Co., as well as Cliffs which holds a 28 per cent interest.

The mine is the third pelletizing operation pioneered by Cliffs on the Marquette Range. The other two are the Humboldt Mine of the Humboldt Mining Co. and the Republic Mine of the Marquette Iron Mining Co., which have been producing superior pellets for blast furnace use.

The Empire deposit differs from Humboldt and Republic in that the jasper ore contains magnetite and the magnetic operation is used to recover the iron from the waste material, rather than the flotation process used at the other two properties.

In addition, Empire uses full autogenous grinding, a first such application in the United States for the liberation of iron ore from fine-grind, low-grade jasper.

This method eliminates the use of costly steel rods and balls in the mills to pulverize the cheaper rock and instead uses the ore chunks and ore pebbles to achieve the same end.

The plant has an initial capacity of 1,200,000 gross tons of high grade pellets.

Dancing will be from 8 to midnight and Exchange Club members and their wives will chaperone.

Cynthia Safford Heads 4-H Group

Cynthia Safford was elected president of the Delta County 4-H Junior Leaders organization with Susan Sundberg vice president, Sally Waak secretary, Wanda Anderson treasurer, Joyce Schout song leader and Tom Safford reporter.

The organization will assist Delta 4-H Clubs plan for county 4-H activities and provide a social outlet for 4-H junior leaders. Larry Bradford, county 4-H agent, and other adult leaders will advise the group.

Two of the Junior Leaders group will serve on the County 4-H Council.

Personal Friend Of President Is Winner In Texas

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Democrat J.J. (Jake) Pickle, personal friend of President Lyndon Johnson, won election as U.S. representative Tuesday in a campaign that many called the new President's first popularity test at the polls.

For Pickle, 49, it is his first elective job in more than two decades of political life. He succeeds Rep. Homer Thornberry, D-Tex., who has been appointed a federal judge.

With all but a few rural votes tabulated in the 10-county central Texas district, Pickle had 27,206 to 16,039 for Republican Jim Dobbs. Party affiliations did not appear on the ballot.

The outcome leaves the House balance of 257 Democrats and 178 Republicans unchanged. Texas, at one time considered solidly Democratic, now has a Republican senator and two of its 23 representatives are Republicans.

Malaysia Jails 37 For Sabotage

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (AP) — Malaysia's prime minister accused Indonesia today of sending saboteurs into the new federation to shatter the country's economy by destroying public service facilities.

Tunku Abdul Rahman told Parliament 37 Indonesian agents had been arrested in Malaya and Singapore and large quantities of arms, explosives and miscellaneous sabotage equipment had been seized.

Pharmacy Dean Of Wayne U. Dies

DETROIT (AP) — Dr. Stephen Wilson, 59, dean of the Wayne State University College of Pharmacy here, died of a heart attack Tuesday.

Wilson came to Wayne State in 1953 after serving as vice dean of the University of Pittsburgh's School of Pharmacy. Pittsburgh gave him its distinguished alumnus award this year for "his pioneering work in the establishment of pharmacy administration as one of the five areas in the study of pharmacy."

It seems apparent, however, that the first wound was so painful and startling that Kennedy was unable to react immediately except to throw his hands in front of him. Assuming the first wound was not fatal, Kennedy's life might also have been saved had someone shielded him or knocked him to the floor of the car in the interval before he was struck in the head.

Secret Service agents are trained to react in such a fashion, but none was close enough to the President to intervene.

Kincheloe Trio Arrested After Speeding Chase

A high-speed chase down U.S. 2-41 between Powers and Menominee Tuesday evening led to the apprehension of three escapees from the stockade at Kincheloe Air Force Base. At times the chase was carried on at speeds up to 120 mph.

The three men were: Richard F. Warden, 20, who was being held in the stockade on a charge of larceny; Mark W. Gavin III, 19, jailed for larceny and AWOL; and Thomas J. Ostrowskie, 19, also serving time for AWOL.

At 10:22 p. m. Tuesday the Gladstone State Police Post received an alert that the three young men had escaped from the Kincheloe stockade about 9 p. m. that night.

At 12:40 a. m. today a car with the three men pulled into the Autoway Truck Stop at 1022 N. 21st St., Escanaba, and asked the attendant, Dean Leroy Head of Perkins, to fill their tank. Head told officers that after putting in 15 gallons of gas the car took off at a high rate of speed without paying for the purchase. He did manage however to get the license number of the vehicle.

Had notified the Gladstone State Police and they in turn called the Escanaba City Police, the Stephenson State Police Post and Menominee city and county law officers to be on the lookout for the trio.

A patrol car from the Stephenson Post intercepted the brown and white 1960 Chevrolet (described by Head) about one mile east of Powers and gave chase. The officers said the trio "threw care to the wind" and drove through Powers, over icy pavement, at 110 mph. They continued at speeds up to 120 mph. until they managed to get out of sight of the patrol car, which had slowed down because of the hazardous driving conditions.

Meanwhile the officers in the patrol car notified the Stephenson Post of what had happened and Troopers Herman Neuman and Robert Pomeroy made plans to intercept the trio. Lighted flares were strewn across the highway at Stephenson, but when the car carrying the three escapees arrived it drove through the flares and the Village of Stephenson at a speed of 100 mph.

The troopers gave chase and followed the car to an area about a quarter-mile south of the Menominee City limits where the Menominee City Police had placed two patrol car across the highway as a blockade. The airmen stopped their car before getting to the blockade and took off on foot, two to the west and one headed east.

Trooper Neuman apprehended two of the escapees hiding behind a house in a wooded area. Tracks of the third man were followed, but the officers lost them in the snow. However, one of the officers flashed a light up into the trees in the general area where thy were searching and spotted the escapee hiding in a tree.

The three men were turned over to the military and returned to Kincheloe Air Base. The car the men were traveling in was owned by another airman who was also serving time in the stockade.

Wheat Program Study Started

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, moving from one national problem to another, sits down today with agriculture leaders in an effort to find agreement on ways to avert a sharp election-year drop in farm income.

Johnson, a rancher himself-summmoned leaders of six national farm organizations to the White House to discuss a new government wheat program.

One is needed, says Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, if wheat farmers' incomes are not to tumble $600 million next year.

So far, the major farm organizations have been unable to agree on a plan.

The American Farm Bureau Federation has been holding out against government controls, while most of the others have endorsed production restrictions.

The organizations invited to send officials include the Farm Bureau Federation, National Grange, National Farmers Union, National Council of Farmer Cooperatives, National Farmers Organization and the Cooperative League of the U.S.A.

Dowagiac Has City Upheaval

DOWAGIAC (AP)—Dowagiac residents, in the latest episode of what the mayor says is a "breakdown of city government," voted 170-116 Monday to oust an alderman who already had resigned.

And, after losing the city attorney and half of the six members of the city council, Dowagiac citizens were told the largest manufacturer has decided against expanding operations here because of the political upheaval.

A remaining councilman added he is circulating petitions for the recall of Mayor Glenn I. Berry.

Alderman Milton Shante was the object of Monday's first ward election. A citizens' group alleged that he interfered with public works employes while serving as chairman of the council's public works committee.

William Collins, vice president and general manager of the Dowagiac plant of Rudy Manufacturing Co., the city's largest employer, said he has been ordered by the firm's board of directors not to launch any expansion program. He said the company is planning expansion elsewhere.

He did not say where the expansion would be and declined to comment on the firm's future operations here.

The governor said Monday he referred Berry's letter to the offices of the attorney general, auditor general, secretary of state and director of economic expansion.

The recall petitions are being circulated against Berry by Alderman C. R. Davis, lone Democrat on the council. He contends that Berry barred him from a special council meeting Nov. 18 and denied his right to read a minority report on the council's investigation into the operations of the Public Works Department.

Personal Friend Of President Is Winner In Texas

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Democrat J.J. (Jake) Pickle, personal friend of President Lyndon Johnson, won election as U.S. representative Tuesday in a campaign that many called the new President's first popularity test at the polls.

For Pickle, 49, it is his first elective job in more than two decades of political life. He succeeds Rep. Homer Thornberry, D-Tex., who has been appointed a federal judge.

With all but a few rural votes tabulated in the 10-county central Texas district, Pickle had 27,206 to 16,039 for Republican Jim Dobbs. Party affiliations did not appear on the ballot.

The outcome leaves the House balance of 257 Democrats and 178 Republicans unchanged. Texas, at one time considered solidly Democratic, now has a Republican senator and two of its 23 representatives are Republicans.

Pharmacy Dean Of Wayne U. Dies

Garden Donors Help Top Quota Of Bloodmobile

Delta County blood donors pushed past their quota of 135 pints at the Tuesday visit of the Badger Blood Bank bloodmobile to the Escanaba Area High School says Mrs. Edward Olson, Red Cross blood program chairman.

The quota for the special visit of the bloodmobile to Delta County was topped by a total donation of 139 points of blood. The clinic had 113 appointments with donors, but only 52 appeared and the rest was contributed by walk-in donors who had not registered previously. The generous pre-Christmas giving of blood kept the unit busy except for a bit of a lull in the dinner hour.

Several factors contributed to the triumph of the blood call. One was the turnout of 20 donors from Garden, who came to replace 20 pints of blood given to a Garden resident recently by the Red Cross Blood Bank. It was all replaced by the gifts of the Garden area group.

Another stimulation to the blood giving was that some of it will be used to replace 26 pints to be used in open heart surgery on a Delta County boy at the University Hospital on Jan. 10.

A third stimulation may have been the 339 pint deficit which Delta County owes to the blood bank. It has used more blood than it has given in 1963. The special clinic Tuesday helped cut the deficit.

Mrs. Olsen said that the bloodmobile will make its first visit of 1964 to Delta County at the James T. Jones School, Gladstone, Tuesday, Feb. 11, when 95 pints will be sought; and on Feb. 12 and 13 in Escanaba, with 135 pints sought each day.

"No persons shall operate, stop, stand or park any truck or truck-trailer combination having a gross weight greater than 10,000 pounds and/or overall length more than 34 feet on any street in the City of Escanaba except on the established truck route or on the shortest direct route from the truck route to the point of loading or unloading."

Begin Operations At Empire Mine; To Employ 214

NEGAUNEE — A new open pit iron mine and ore processing plant — providing jobs for 214 persons — has begun start-up operations and break-in of equipment at Palmer, just four miles south of Negaunee. Within a reasonable period it is expected the plant will be in full operation.

The Empire Mine is managed by the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. for Empire Mining Co., owned by Inland Steel Co., McLouth Steel Corp., International Harvester Co., as well as Cliffs which holds a 28 per cent interest.

The mine is the third pelletizing operation pioneered by Cliffs on the Marquette Range. The other two are the Humboldt Mine of the Humboldt Mining Co. and the Republic Mine of the Marquette Iron Mining Co., which have been producing superior pellets for blast furnace use.

The Empire deposit differs from Humboldt and Republic in that the jasper ore contains magnetite and the magnetic operation is used to recover the iron from the waste material, rather than the flotation process used at the other two properties.

In addition, Empire uses full autogenous grinding, a first such application in the United States for the liberation of iron ore from fine-grind, low-grade jasper.

This method eliminates the use of costly steel rods and balls in the mills to pulverize the cheaper rock and instead uses the ore chunks and ore pebbles to achieve the same end.

The plant has an initial capacity of 1,200,000 gross tons of high grade pellets.

Democrats are observing a moratorium on political announcements until Dec. 22, the end of an official month of mourning in Michigan for the late President Kennnedy.

The Philadelphia-born Blondy attended Jerfferson School and Cass Tech in Detroit, and was five times elected constable of Detroit's 10th Ward.

Briefly Told

Escanaba police have issued a traffic court summons to Warren A. Pearson, North Escanaba, for failing to yield the right of way.

Foy A. Arbour, 41, of Bay View, suffered minor injuries when his car was involved in a traffic mishap at 1:15 p. m. Tuesday at the Washington, Stephenson and Sheridan Road Y intersection. Police said the other car was driven by Louella Maniaci, 1225 Wisconsin Ave., Gladstone.

Second Bullet Was Fatal One For Kennedy

It seems apparent, however, that the first wound was so painful and startling that Kennedy was unable to react immediately except to throw his hands in front of him. Assuming the first wound was not fatal, Kennedy's life might also have been saved had someone shielded him or knocked him to the floor of the car in the interval before he was struck in the head.

Secret Service agents are trained to react in such a fashion, but none was close enough to the President to intervene.

Death Award Is Arbitrated

NEWBERRY—An award of $3,400 and court costs has been made by arbitrator Robert S. Thompson in the suit of Kenneth Ruby against the Michigan Mutual Liability Co. for the death of his son, Roger, 7, who was struck by a car driven by Lyle Sisson, of Newberry, July 5, 1963 in Newberry.

Sisson was not insured and Thompson sued the underwriter of his own insurance. Counsel said the case was the first such heard in the Upper Peninsula by the American Arbitration Assn.

Atty. Robert A. Wood of Newberry represented Ruby and brought the action under the policy section referred to as "the uninsured motorist coverage."

Ruby operates the Newberry Collision Shop.

Plenty Of Rooms For Kennedys In $400,000 Home

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The $400,000 oceanfront mansion where Mrs. John F. Kennedy and her children will spend the holidays has eight bedrooms, nine servants rooms, an inside garden, and a 75-foot heated swimming pool. But no Christmas tree.

It's secluded behind a 10-foot-high stone wall and a thicket of palms. A guard stands at the gate. This Christmas, as on two past, there will be Secret Service men on the grounds.

The Kennedys leased the home in 1961. The late President could not cram his Secret Servicemen, aides and equipment into the nearby home of his father, Joseph P. Kennedy. The Kennedys returned in 1962.

The mansion was designed in 1939 for the late financier Charles Ulrich Bay. The current owner is millionaire Col. C. Michael Paul, longtime friend of the Kennedy family.

Col. Paul referred modestly to his home as "one okay for a generously sized family. Rooms? Oh, I have more than I should have. I've really lost count, but I have lots."

There's lots of room for children's play, 400 feet of private beach, and a spacious lawn. Why no Christmas tree?

Tittle Topped All Passers

NEW YORK (AP) — Y. A. Tittle of the New York Giants won the first individual passing championship of his 14-year career in the National Football League in the season that ended Sunday. Y. A. led every week and finished up with a record-breaking total of 36 touchdown passes.

Tittle completed 221 of 367 for 3,145 yards and had only 14 intercepted. The standings are based on per cent of completions, 60.2; TD passes, 36; per cent of interceptions, 3.8, and average yards gained, 8.57. Johnny Unitas of Baltimore was second.

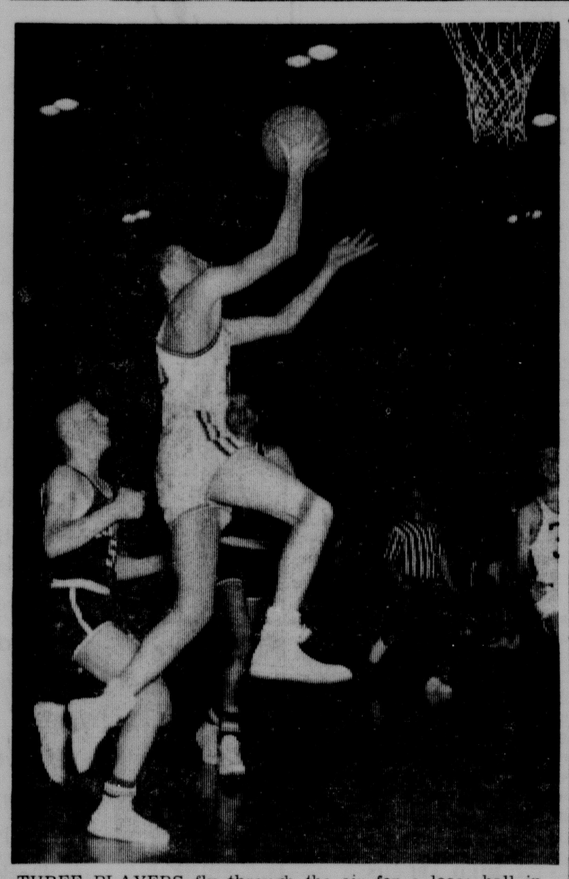

Jimmy Brown of Cleveland had wrapppped up the rushing crown so early that it came as absolutely no surprise to learn that he was the winner with a record 1,863 yards. It was Jimmy's sixth rushing title in seven years. He dethroned Jim Taylor of Green Bay, the 1962 champ, who was second with 1,018 yards.

Bobby Joe Conrad of St. Louis won the pass receiving title by nabbing 73 for 967 yards. Bobby Mitchell of Washington was second with 69 catches for 1,436 yards.

Don Chandler, New York's punter, field goal kicker and extra point man became the scoring champion with 106 points, two more than Jim Martin of Baltimore. Chandler kicked 18 field goals and 52 conversions. The first four scorers were kickers. Jimmy Brown's 15 touchdowns gave him 90 points for fifth place.

Gladstone Is Victim By 59 To 53 Margin

The Holy Name Crusaders chalked up their fifth straight victory of the season here Tuesday night but not until they staved off a determined Gladstone rally in the closing minutes of a 59-53 battle.

Trailing by 13 points (53-40) with four minutes remaining on the clock, Coach Bill Wood's scrappy Braves battled back to within four points with a half a minute to go. A Holy Name field goal at the final buzzer spread the margin to six points.

A rash of personal and technical fouls very nearly wiped out Holy Name's advantage of eight field goals in the hotly contested fray. The Crusaders were guilty of 25 personals and were charged with a pair of technicals for some extra-curricular vocal activity.

The Braves took advantage of the Holy Name fouls to pop in 21 charity shots. The fact that they missed on 11 of 17 opportunities in the first half put them in a deep hole, but they found the range for 15 of 20 in the second half.

Scoring Dual

The teams hooked up in a red hot scoring duel for the first period and a half. In that span, the score was tied five times and the lead changed hands seven times. Holy Name had a 17-16 edge at the end of the first quarter.

Midway in the second Holy Name spurted from a 24-22 lead with seven points to make it 31-22. Tom Watson hit a final bucket to narrow the gap to 31-24 at the half.

At one stage in the third period the Crusaders boosted their lead to 14 points at 39-25 but a steady stream of free throws cut it to seven again at the end of the stanza, 43-36. The Braves connected on only one field goal in the period but clicked on 10 of 15 free throw shots.

Holy Name regained command of the game early in the fourth period and padded the advantage to 53-40 before Gladstone began its final rally. Bob Randall and Tom Domres hit from the field, Bruce Ellison hit both ends of a one-and-one and Tom Watson flipped in three free throws to pare the Holy Name lead to 57-51 with 1:06 remaining. Domres spread the nets with a jumper to make it 57-53 with 30 seconds left. Jim Micheau closed out the scoring for Holy Name in the final second of the game.

Balanced Effort

Holy Name's victory string was extended on a balanced team effort as three players scored in double figures and two others were close behind. Frank Stupak took over the scoring burden with 19 points while Walter Veldman tallied 11 and Frank Trotter 10. Trotter's output was his lowest of the season but his floor generalship was outstanding. Micheau came off the bench to turn in a fine game, setting up three key buckets with pin-point passing.

Clarence Ehlers drew a starting assignment with the Crusaders and came through with eight points before fouling out late in the third period.

Tom Watson was the big man in the Gladstone attack, hooping six field goals and converting eight of 11 free throws for 20 points. Bob Randall also reached double scoring figures with 13.

In preliminary action the Holy Name jayvees won 55-54 and the Holy Name freshman team scored a 55-34 victory.

Kentucky Coach Faces Problem

LEINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Kentucky Coach Adolph Rupp has problems: He has so many good basketball players he's getting man-sized headaches just trying to decide on a starting line-up.

Rupp's problems were even bigger today with an announcement from the university's dean of men that Mickey Gibson, a highly regarded sophomore, would be eligible for Kentucky's Invitational Tournament this weekend if he makes his grades.

Gibson, who Rupp says is "as good as anyone I've seen at this stage of the game," has been on disciplinary probation.

The 6-foot-3 Gibson scored an average of 23.1 points a game last year as a freshman before being sidelined because of scholastic troubles.

Now that Gibson's eligibility is all but in the bag, Rupp is going to have to find room for him on the second ranked Wildcats front line—and that's not going to be easy.

Playing there now are Cotton Nash and Ted Deeken, the highest one-two scoring punch in Kentucky history, and a sensational sophomore floor leader, Larry Conley.

Nash is averaging 29 points a game, Deeken 22 and Conley 12.

Rupp has indicated that Conley could be moved to a guard spot. But that would cause a traffic jam where three other fine experienced backcourt men are fighting it out for starting jobs already.

Most observers feel that Rupp will move Conley, who is 6-foot-3 to guard and bench Randy Embry, a 5-11 junior, and Charles Ishmael, a 6-5 senior.

Free Throws Beat Tigers

POWERS-SPALDING— The free throw line spelled defeat for Coach Gordy LeDuc's Powers-Spalding Tigers here Tuesday night as Felch scored a 58-54 Big Eight Conference decision.

The teams were even from the field with 22 goals apiece. But the Foresters took advantage of 20 Tiger personal fouls to score 14 of 29 free throws. The Tigers made 10 out of 14.

Mike Nelson led the Tigers with 15 points and 20 rebounds.

Tittle Topped All Passers

NEW YORK (AP) — Y. A. Tittle of the New York Giants won the first individual passing championship of his 14-year career in the National Football League in the season that ended Sunday. Y. A. led every week and finished up with a record-breaking total of 36 touchdown passes.

Tittle completed 221 of 367 for 3,145 yards and had only 14 intercepted. The standings are based on per cent of completions, 60.2; TD passes, 36; per cent of interceptions, 3.8, and average yards gained, 8.57. Johnny Unitas of Baltimore was second.

Jimmy Brown of Cleveland had wrapppped up the rushing crown so early that it came as absolutely no surprise to learn that he was the winner with a record 1,863 yards. It was Jimmy's sixth rushing title in seven years. He dethroned Jim Taylor of Green Bay, the 1962 champ, who was second with 1,018 yards.

Bobby Joe Conrad of St. Louis won the pass receiving title by nabbing 73 for 967 yards. Bobby Mitchell of Washington was second with 69 catches for 1,436 yards.

Don Chandler, New York's punter, field goal kicker and extra point man became the scoring champion with 106 points, two more than Jim Martin of Baltimore. Chandler kicked 18 field goals and 52 conversions. The first four scorers were kickers. Jimmy Brown's 15 touchdowns gave him 90 points for fifth place.

Kentucky Coach Faces Problem

LEINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Kentucky Coach Adolph Rupp has problems: He has so many good basketball players he's getting man-sized headaches just trying to decide on a starting line-up.

Rupp's problems were even bigger today with an announcement from the university's dean of men that Mickey Gibson, a highly regarded sophomore, would be eligible for Kentucky's Invitational Tournament this weekend if he makes his grades.

Gibson, who Rupp says is "as good as anyone I've seen at this stage of the game," has been on disciplinary probation.

The 6-foot-3 Gibson scored an average of 23.1 points a game last year as a freshman before being sidelined because of scholastic troubles.

Now that Gibson's eligibility is all but in the bag, Rupp is going to have to find room for him on the second ranked Wildcats front line—and that's not going to be easy.

Playing there now are Cotton Nash and Ted Deeken, the highest one-two scoring punch in Kentucky history, and a sensational sophomore floor leader, Larry Conley.

Nash is averaging 29 points a game, Deeken 22 and Conley 12.

Rupp has indicated that Conley could be moved to a guard spot. But that would cause a traffic jam where three other fine experienced backcourt men are fighting it out for starting jobs already.

Most observers feel that Rupp will move Conley, who is 6-foot-3 to guard and bench Randy Embry, a 5-11 junior, and Charles Ishmael, a 6-5 senior.

Free Throws Beat Tigers

POWERS-SPALDING— The free throw line spelled defeat for Coach Gordy LeDuc's Powers-Spalding Tigers here Tuesday night as Felch scored a 58-54 Big Eight Conference decision.

The teams were even from the field with 22 goals apiece. But the Foresters took advantage of 20 Tiger personal fouls to score 14 of 29 free throws. The Tigers made 10 out of 14.

Mike Nelson led the Tigers with 15 points and 20 rebounds.

Powers-Spalding won the jayvee game 54-13.

It's Official; Parseghian Is New Notre Dame Coach

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Non-Catholic, non-alumnus Ara Parseghian, a 40-year-old Armenian now has been officially stamped as the 24th head football coach at Notre Dame.

The certification ended 36 hours of mystery which started Monday when the former Northwestern mentor balked at signing a four-year Notre Dame contract and left everyone agog.

It still is not signed, but the Rev. Edmund P. Joyce, executive vice president of Notre Dame, says it will come when Ara has time to drop in on the university.

Ara said the reason for his walkout on negotiations was a personal matter. He would not elaborate.

Parseghian telephoned Father Joyce Tuesday and apologized for any embarrassment his abrupt departure at Monday's press conference might have caused. He asked that a Notre Dame jacket be sent to him so he could wear it as a coach of the East-West Shrine game at San Francisco Dec. 28.

Notre Dame held the door open for Parseghian's return. And he returned.

This came after Parseghian's No. 1 assistant at Northwestern, Alex Agase, was named head coach there Tuesday. A statement issued by both Parseghian and Father Joyce said the "slight difficulty which arose Monday morning had been dissolved."

Exactly what this is has been sealed by the only four persons who know—Father Joyce, Parseghian, Stu Holcomb, Northwestern's athletic director, and the Rev. Theodore Hesburgh, Notre Dame president.

Hugh Devore, Notre Dame's 1963 interim coach with a 2-7 record, has been named assistant athletic director to Ed Moose Krause.

Father Joyce, who has been strictly noncommmittal on any phase of the situation, disclosed to The Associated Press the steps in which Parseghian was hired.

"We wanted a vigorous, young man, experienced in football, who was honest and aboveboard," Father Joyce said. "Our main reason not to continue with Devore as head football coach was his age (53).

"Several weeks ago, Parseghian called me and said: 'I hope I am not presumptuous calling you but you always have announced that Devore was an interim coach and if you are thinking of making a change, I would be interested.

" 'I have a number of opportunities and Northwestern knows I am restive.' "

"I told him the possibilities looked good and I was interested in getting a younger man. I wanted to talk with him about it just as long as officials at Northwestern knew what I was doing.

"I had several discussions with Stu Holcomb," Father Joyce continued. "The whole thing was handled very cordially. Along the line of these negotiations Father Hesburgh called Roscoe Miller (Northwestern University president) and Dr. Miller said he was happy that we had done so. He praised Ara highly and told us we were free to talk to him."

Manny Newsome Of Western Is Scoring Whizz

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Attention Nick Werkman and Barry Kramer:

Manny Newsome, a 5-foot-9 sparkplug from Western Michigan may be out to steal the major college scoring crown while returning the title to a 30-point plus scorer.

Werkman averaged 29.5 points a game for Seton Hall last year to 29.3 for NYU's Kramer and became the first scoring champion in 11 years to win the crown without averaging 30 points a game.

Both are back in the battle this season, but the big surprise has been the point production of Newsome, two-time scoring champion in the Mid-American Conference, who wound up 18th on the list in 1962 with a 23.1 average.

Newsome has been scoring at such a prolific rate his average dropped to 31.8 Tuesday night when he scored 30 in Western Michigan's 92-89 victory over Notre Dame. It was only the second victory in six games for the Broncos.

But Newsome and Western Michigan have been playing some of the top teams in the country — Northwestern, Michigan State, Marquette, Loyola, Michigan and now Notre Dame. And Newsome has scored heavily against all.

Outstanding one-man shows also were turned in by Rick Barry, who made all 17 of his foul shots and collected 35 points in Miami of Florida's 95-83 victory over San Francisco, and by Marvin Mitchell, who hit 13 of 18 from the floor and scored 30 points as West Texas edged Western Kentucky 84-83.

Chuck Richards scored 35 points and hit for the winning basket with three seconds left as Syracuse edged Cornell 86-84 and Clemson also won with three seconds left, edging Virginia 53-52 on a final shot by Mike Bohonak.

In other games, Carroll Hooser clicked for 27 points in SMU's 97-75 triumph over Georgia Tech, Virginia Tech rode Howard Pardue's 20-point effort to a 81-75 victory over Georgia, Wisconsin crushed Gonzaga 115-71, Oklahoma State walloped Long Beach State 91-66, Texas Tech clipped Oklahoma 95-66, Princeton defeated Rutgers 79-50, Ohio U. downed St. John's, N.Y., 58-54 and Moorhead beat Marshall 103-83.

Russian Team Continues Tour

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — The Russian National Hockey team continues its seven-game tour of the United States here tonight, meeting the Charlotte Checkers of the Eastern Hockey League.

The speedy Soviet skaters launched their trip with a 12-3 rout of the Greensboro Generals, defending champions of the Eastern Hockey League, Tuesday night.

Northern Wins, Tech Loses In College Action

By The Associated Press

The Fighting Irish of Notre Dame went down fighting as the Broncos of Western Michigan trampled them in a 92-89 basketball victory at Kalamazoo Tuesday night.

Two other Michigan teams roughed up visitors; one went down before an out-of-state team and six others played back-yard contests.

Although Western took a permanent lead in the first period, Notre Dame fought back all the way and came within a point of the Broncos three times in the last minute and 15 seconds.

The Irish played without starting forward Walt Sahm, a 6-foot-8 junior, who was out with torn back muscles, and center Larry Jeswitz, who fouled out early in the last period.

Manny Newsome led the Broncos with 31 points — one below his scoring average for the year. Jay Miller topped Notre Dame with 22.

In other action, Northern Michigan blitzed Westmont College of Santa Barbara, Calif., 100-71; Davenport Institute of Grand Rapids defeated the State University of New York, 109-87, and Michigan Tech went down to Moorehead State of Minnesota, 89-72.

In the intra-state contests, Central Michigan breezed past Calvin College, 95-89; Lawrence Tech defeated neighbor Detroit Tech 82-63, and Alma posted a 90-86 victory over Eastern Michigan.

Central ran its winning streak to eight games—five of them this season — in its defeat of Calvin. It was an easy victory, with Central ahead 53-35 at the half.

Bud Acton poured in 40 points to lead Alma to a 90-86 victory over Eastern at Ypsilanti. The 6-foot-5 center broke an 86-86 tie with a pair of free-throws to clinch the non-conference victory.

Northern, which has averaged 86 points a game, was led by the 18-point shooting of Bob Armstead in its victory over the California team at Marquette. Northern has a 5-3 season record.

Butcher Paces Piston Victory

By The Associated Press

San Francisco survived a closing-minutes scare Tuesday night and nipped St. Louis, 110-106, in a National Basketball Association cliff-hanger. But the ghost that plagued New York in its 107-103 loss to Detroit was too much for the shook-up Knicks.

Boston curdled Baltimore, 131-114, in the only other game scheduled.

The Warriors blew a 20-point lead in the final eight minutes but hung on to move within 2½ games of the second-place Hawks and within three of Los Angeles' Western Division leaders.

The Knicks blew the whole ball game as Donnie Butcher, dealt to the Pistons Sunday, haunted his ex-mates with a 17-point performance and took charge of Detroit's offense in the winning stretch drive.

Davis Is Named Coach Of Year In AFL Ranks

NEW YORK (AP)—Al Davis, a dynamic young man who lifted the Oakland Raiders from th cellar to a pennant-contending role in one year, has been named Coach of the Year in the American Football League by a panel of 24 sports writers and sportscasters for The Associated Press.

Davis, only 33, moved to Oakland and a sorry situation last Jan. 19 after spending three years as an assistant to Sid Gillman, San Diego coach.

Taking over as both coach and general manager, Davis quickly signed Art Powell, a top pass receiver who had played out his option with the old New York Titans.

Under Davis the Oakland club has made a dramatic recovery from a sorry 1-13 season in 1962.

Going into the final week of the 1963 season, the Raiders still had a chance to tie San Diego for the Western Division championship. They had a 9-4 record that included two victories over Davis' old boss, Gillman, and his San Diego Chargers. The Raiders ride a seven-game winning streak into Sunday's finale with Houston.

"We call ourselves the 'Foreign Legion' because our club is made up of players nobody else wanted," Davis said recently. "No matter who we play we've got somebody on our club who has the added incentive of going against his old club. That can be a help."

With Cotton Davidson and Tom Flores splitting the job at quarterback and throwing to Powell as their favorite target, the Raiders have managed an air threat to balance Clem Daniels' running. The pass defense has been outstanding.

Davis received 18 of the 24 votes. Gillman and Mike Holovak of the Boston Patriots each received three votes.

Holovak's Pats finished in a first-place tie with Buffalo in the East and will play for the championship Dec. 28 at Buffalo.

Mrs. Mary D. Leonard, administrative assistant in the Michigan Department of Labor, and Miss Marguerite Gilmore, regional director of the women's division of the U. S. Department of Labor at Chicago were in the peninsula earlier, outlining hopes and goals of the conference, Wright said.

It's Official; Parseghian Is New Notre Dame Coach

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Non-Catholic, non-alumnus Ara Parseghian, a 40-year-old Armenian now has been officially stamped as the 24th head football coach at Notre Dame.

The certification ended 36 hours of mystery which started Monday when the former Northwestern mentor balked at signing a four-year Notre Dame contract and left everyone agog.

It still is not signed, but the Rev. Edmund P. Joyce, executive vice president of Notre Dame, says it will come when Ara has time to drop in on the university.

Ara said the reason for his walkout on negotiations was a personal matter. He would not elaborate.

Parseghian telephoned Father Joyce Tuesday and apologized for any embarrassment his abrupt departure at Monday's press conference might have caused. He asked that a Notre Dame jacket be sent to him so he could wear it as a coach of the East-West Shrine game at San Francisco Dec. 28.

Notre Dame held the door open for Parseghian's return. And he returned.

This came after Parseghian's No. 1 assistant at Northwestern, Alex Agase, was named head coach there Tuesday. A statement issued by both Parseghian and Father Joyce said the "slight difficulty which arose Monday morning had been dissolved."

Exactly what this is has been sealed by the only four persons who know—Father Joyce, Parseghian, Stu Holcomb, Northwestern's athletic director, and the Rev. Theodore Hesburgh, Notre Dame president.

Hugh Devore, Notre Dame's 1963 interim coach with a 2-7 record, has been named assistant athletic director to Ed Moose Krause.

Father Joyce, who has been strictly noncommmittal on any phase of the situation, disclosed to The Associated Press the steps in which Parseghian was hired.

"We wanted a vigorous, young man, experienced in football, who was honest and aboveboard," Father Joyce said. "Our main reason not to continue with Devore as head football coach was his age (53).

"Several weeks ago, Parseghian called me and said: 'I hope I am not presumptuous calling you but you always have announced that Devore was an interim coach and if you are thinking of making a change, I would be interested.

" 'I have a number of opportunities and Northwestern knows I am restive.' "

"I told him the possibilities looked good and I was interested in getting a younger man. I wanted to talk with him about it just as long as officials at Northwestern knew what I was doing.

"I had several discussions with Stu Holcomb," Father Joyce continued. "The whole thing was handled very cordially. Along the line of these negotiations Father Hesburgh called Roscoe Miller (Northwestern University president) and Dr. Miller said he was happy that we had done so. He praised Ara highly and told us we were free to talk to him."

Manny Newsome Of Western Is Scoring Whizz

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Attention Nick Werkman and Barry Kramer:

Manny Newsome, a 5-foot-9 sparkplug from Western Michigan may be out to steal the major college scoring crown while returning the title to a 30-point plus scorer.

Werkman averaged 29.5 points a game for Seton Hall last year to 29.3 for NYU's Kramer and became the first scoring champion in 11 years to win the crown without averaging 30 points a game.

Both are back in the battle this season, but the big surprise has been the point production of Newsome, two-time scoring champion in the Mid-American Conference, who wound up 18th on the list in 1962 with a 23.1 average.

Newsome has been scoring at such a prolific rate his average dropped to 31.8 Tuesday night when he scored 30 in Western Michigan's 92-89 victory over Notre Dame. It was only the second victory in six games for the Broncos.

But Newsome and Western Michigan have been playing some of the top teams in the country — Northwestern, Michigan State, Marquette, Loyola, Michigan and now Notre Dame. And Newsome has scored heavily against all.

Outstanding one-man shows also were turned in by Rick Barry, who made all 17 of his foul shots and collected 35 points in Miami of Florida's 95-83 victory over San Francisco, and by Marvin Mitchell, who hit 13 of 18 from the floor and scored 30 points as West Texas edged Western Kentucky 84-83.

Chuck Richards scored 35 points and hit for the winning basket with three seconds left as Syracuse edged Cornell 86-84 and Clemson also won with three seconds left, edging Virginia 53-52 on a final shot by Mike Bohonak.

In other games, Carroll Hooser clicked for 27 points in SMU's 97-75 triumph over Georgia Tech, Virginia Tech rode Howard Pardue's 20-point effort to a 81-75 victory over Georgia, Wisconsin crushed Gonzaga 115-71, Oklahoma State walloped Long Beach State 91-66, Texas Tech clipped Oklahoma 95-66, Princeton defeated Rutgers 79-50, Ohio U. downed St. John's, N.Y., 58-54 and Moorhead beat Marshall 103-83.

Northern Wins, Tech Loses In College Action

By The Associated Press

The Fighting Irish of Notre Dame went down fighting as the Broncos of Western Michigan trampled them in a 92-89 basketball victory at Kalamazoo Tuesday night.

Two other Michigan teams roughed up visitors; one went down before an out-of-state team and six others played back-yard contests.

Although Western took a permanent lead in the first period, Notre Dame fought back all the way and came within a point of the Broncos three times in the last minute and 15 seconds.

The Irish played without starting forward Walt Sahm, a 6-foot-8 junior, who was out with torn back muscles, and center Larry Jeswitz, who fouled out early in the last period.

In other action, Northern Michigan blitzed Westmont College of Santa Barbara, Calif., 100-71; Davenport Institute of Grand Rapids defeated the State University of New York, 109-87, and Michigan Tech went down to Moorehead State of Minnesota, 89-72.

In the intra-state contests, Central Michigan breezed past Calvin College, 95-89; Lawrence Tech defeated neighbor Detroit Tech 82-63, and Alma posted a 90-86 victory over Eastern Michigan.

Central ran its winning streak to eight games—five of them this season — in its defeat of Calvin. It was an easy victory, with Central ahead 53-35 at the half.

Bud Acton poured in 40 points to lead Alma to a 90-86 victory over Eastern at Ypsilanti. The 6-foot-5 center broke an 86-86 tie with a pair of free-throws to clinch the non-conference victory.

Northern, which has averaged 86 points a game, was led by the 18-point shooting of Bob Armstead in its victory over the California team at Marquette. Northern has a 5-3 season record.

Davis Is Named Coach Of Year In AFL Ranks

NEW YORK (AP)—Al Davis, a dynamic young man who lifted the Oakland Raiders from th cellar to a pennant-contending role in one year, has been named Coach of the Year in the American Football League by a panel of 24 sports writers and sportscasters for The Associated Press.

Davis, only 33, moved to Oakland and a sorry situation last Jan. 19 after spending three years as an assistant to Sid Gillman, San Diego coach.

Taking over as both coach and general manager, Davis quickly signed Art Powell, a top pass receiver who had played out his option with the old New York Titans.

Under Davis the Oakland club has made a dramatic recovery from a sorry 1-13 season in 1962.

Going into the final week of the 1963 season, the Raiders still had a chance to tie San Diego for the Western Division championship. They had a 9-4 record that included two victories over Davis' old boss, Gillman, and his San Diego Chargers. The Raiders ride a seven-game winning streak into Sunday's finale with Houston.

"We call ourselves the 'Foreign Legion' because our club is made up of players nobody else wanted," Davis said recently. "No matter who we play we've got somebody on our club who has the added incentive of going against his old club. That can be a help."

With Cotton Davidson and Tom Flores splitting the job at quarterback and throwing to Powell as their favorite target, the Raiders have managed an air threat to balance Clem Daniels' running. The pass defense has been outstanding.

Davis received 18 of the 24 votes. Gillman and Mike Holovak of the Boston Patriots each received three votes.

Holovak's Pats finished in a first-place tie with Buffalo in the East and will play for the championship Dec. 28 at Buffalo.

Butcher Paces Piston Victory

By The Associated Press

San Francisco survived a closing-minutes scare Tuesday night and nipped St. Louis, 110-106, in a National Basketball Association cliff-hanger. But the ghost that plagued New York in its 107-103 loss to Detroit was too much for the shook-up Knicks.

Boston curdled Baltimore, 131-114, in the only other game scheduled.

The Warriors blew a 20-point lead in the final eight minutes but hung on to move within 2½ games of the second-place Hawks and within three of Los Angeles' Western Division leaders.

The Knicks blew the whole ball game as Donnie Butcher, dealt to the Pistons Sunday, haunted his ex-mates with a 17-point performance and took charge of Detroit's offense in the winning stretch drive.

GLADSTONE

Marble Fears Hysteria-Bred Firearm Curbs

Guns and firearm accessories are the lifeblood of the business of Marble Arms Division of ITT-Bell & Gossett, Inc., says Manager L. S. Bryant of Gladstone and the Division has been concerned about the pressures for gun suppression since the assassination of President Kennedy.

"We like the appeal to reason rather than hysteria in Guns Magazine's report of the Shooters Club of America's 7-point program of action for gun control," said Bryant.

The Shooters Club is for any law that can effectively keep firearms from criminals, psychopaths and any other irresponsible individuals, but states that many well-intentioned but uninformed persons are attempting to deny to everyone the right to possess firearms.

The Shooters Club program:

1. Postpone any firearm control legislation for 30 days.

2. Aim firearms legislation at the unlawful use rather than the mere possession of firearms.

3. Never restrict the basic right to keep a shotgun, rifle or handgun in one's home or place of business. (The FBI reports less than 7 pct. of crimes are committed with firearms, less than 1 pct. with rifles.)

4. Every purchaser of a mail order firearm should be required to send in some personal identification and proof of age.

5. Gun ownership registration lists would be a convenient way of disarming the private citizen at the whim of any subversive power that might filtrate the police agencies.

6. Some say the 2nd Amendment to the Constitution is obsolete because we have police and army to protect citizens, but many individuals are shot, stabbed or beaten while waiting for "the proper authorities" to arrive.

7. Gun enthusiasts and concerned citizens should write their congressmen and senators to reject hysteria in gun control.

Sports Park Is Readied To Open Saturday

With the upcoming holidays ahead high school and college students alike are looking forward to taking part in the winter sports activities.

Present plans call for the opening of the Gladstone Sports Park on Dec. 21, Saturday, providing the snow conditions are good and from all indications they will be.

Francis Roy, president of the Gladstone Ski Club, said the 21st has been set as a target date because this is the first day of vacation for high school youngsters. The opening date last year was approximately the same time.

Has Four Tows

During the off-season workmen have been busy readying the ski park for opening. There has been some electrical work done, which will increase the outdoor lighting of the area, and work has been done on the slopes of the east hill, across from the bowl tow.

Roy said that the work on the slope was done by an employe of the Mead Corp. and that Mead also provided the bulldozer for the job.

Also completed this past year was the replacement of tow ropes on two of the tows. The Sports Park has four tows, one on the front hill, a second on the bowl hill, one on the east hill, and a fourth that is presently being installed on the small hill south of the club house for use by small children.

According to Roy, Bob Barron and John Hebert, both of Escanaba, will work with the ski patrol this year.

Open Ski School

The clubhouse, operated by Ray Norton of Gladstone, is expected to open on Saturday. Here skiers can get hot coffee, chocolate, hamburgers, popcorn, candy, etc.

On January 4-5 the Sports Park ski school instruction will get under way with Jerry Harris and Walter Palmquist as instructors. Registrations for the ski school can now be obtained at either the Manning Shoe Store in Escanaba or Hansen's Sporting Goods in Gladstone.

Roy pointed out that in order to join the ski school, for which a nominal fee is charged, a person must be a member of the ski club.

Mark Sixth Year

The ski school consists of six one-hour classes for each student, of one hour each week. The groups are formed according to the skiers ability, beginners, intermediate, advanced and the racing class.

Deadline for registering for the ski school is Dec. 28.

This year's ski school will mark the sixth year of operation. Roy said that in the past the classes have been growing by an average of 10 to 15 per cent each year. Last year the school taught a total of 258 students, this year about 275 are expected.

The schedule for opening of the clubhouse and ski park is from 1 to 5 p. m. on Saturday and Sunday and from 7:30 to 10:30 p. m. each Thursday. Roy said that tentative plans are underway to open the park for use on Saturday evening also, but that no definite decision has been made as yet.

Wall Is Opened For Berliners

BERLIN (AP)—West Berlin and East German authorities have signed an agreement opening the wall for West Berliners to visit relatives in East Berlin over the Christmas season, Western officials announced.

Western officials said details of the agreement would be announced later today.

The agreement was reached today after six days of tough, touch-and-go negotiations.

It opens the Red wall to West Berliners who have relatives in the East for the first time since the wall was built more than two years ago to stop the escape of refugees.

Western officials estimated that about 400,000 West Berliners will be eligible to cross into the Soviet sector.

The agreement was signed by Horse Korber, an official of the West Berlin city government, and Erich Wendt, East German deputy cultural affairs minister.

Issuance of permits will begin Wednesday at 12 points in West Berlin with officials of the East German post office handling the applications.

The East Germans had wanted West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt to sign the agreement, but he refused, fearing this might imply Western recognition of the East German regime.

The Communists then said Korber could sign but his signature would have to show specifically that he was signing for the West Berlin city government. Again, the West Berliners refused.

However, Korber eventually signed the agreement and there was no immediate explanation. The signing appeared to mean the Berlin and Communist negotiators had found a formula to break the deadlock which arose Friday over how to sign the document.

Opinion here was divided as to what political implications this agreement might have.

Some officials say it is nothing but a technical agreement without political overtones. Others fear it gives the East ammunition for their campaign to isolate West Berlin from the Western camp and turn it into a so-called neutral, demilitarized city.

West Germans, as distinguished from West Berliners, have always been able to cross into East Berlin.

Freed Michigan Escaper Changes Name In Denver

DENVER (AP) — Alonzo W. Gunsell, alias George W. King, is back in Colorado where he lived an exemplary life for more than 10 years before returning to a Michigan prison.

Gunsell, 43, walked away from a prison honor camp in 1953 after serving seven years of a 15 to 30-year sentence for burglary.

Now, he said, one of his first acts will be to ask the courts to make legal his name of George W. King.

That is the name he lived under while in Colorado. It is the name under which he married and became the stepfather of three children.

While fishing last July near Gunnison, Colo., Gunsell - King was picked up by FBI agents. His record came to light in the course of a routine investigation.

Colorado authorities were sufficiently impressed with his record to permit his return to Michigan without guards. He was accompanied only by his wife, Edna, and stepdaughter, Deborah, 17.

Gov. John A. Love of Colorado and Gov. George Romney of Michigan interceded for him. Dec. 2 the Michigan Parole Board released him and he returned to his Denver home.

Legal action to change his name probably will start after the holidays.

"Then, I'm in hopes I can do something to help someone else who is in distress," he said.

Congress Has Lot Left Over

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

Congress record: As the 1963 Congress plunged into its final week Monday, Senate leaders complimented each other for cooperation and brushed off charges that it had been a do-nothing session.

GOP Senate chief Everett M. Dirksen said it might be characterized as a "stop, look and listen Congress," wary of new federal programs and increased spending.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said Congress had made a "good start" even though there is a lot left to be done next year.

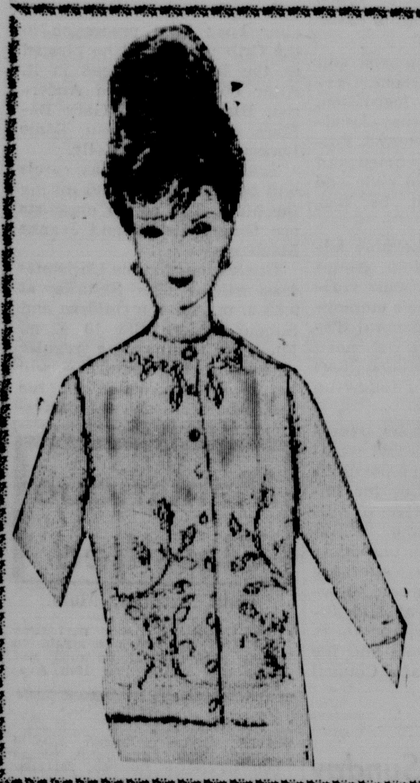

Cambodia: The United States still is studying whether to support a conference whose mission would be to guarantee Cambodia's neutrality, a State Department spokesman said Monday.

There were reports from Paris over the weekend that Secretary of State Dean Rusk had agreed in principle to reconvening the Geneva Conference to discuss the situation in Cambodia.

Political contributions: The Senate Finance Committee approved Monday a proposal that would allow political contributions of up to $50 for individuals and $100 for couples to be deducted on income tax returns.

Production: With the output of automobiles and consumer goods continuing at a brisk pace, the nation's industrial production remained virtually unchanged in November.

The Federal Reserve Board's index of production inched up from 126.6 to 126.9. This compares with a base of 100 as the 1957-59 average for production of consumer goods, business, farm and transportation equipment and activity in the mining and utility industries.

Marble Fears Hysteria-Bred Firearm Curbs

Guns and firearm accessories are the lifeblood of the business of Marble Arms Division of ITT-Bell & Gossett, Inc., says Manager L. S. Bryant of Gladstone and the Division has been concerned about the pressures for gun suppression since the assassination of President Kennedy.

"We like the appeal to reason rather than hysteria in Guns Magazine's report of the Shooters Club of America's 7-point program of action for gun control," said Bryant.

The Shooters Club is for any law that can effectively keep firearms from criminals, psychopaths and any other irresponsible individuals, but states that many well-intentioned but uninformed persons are attempting to deny to everyone the right to possess firearms.

The Shooters Club program:

1. Postpone any firearm control legislation for 30 days.

2. Aim firearms legislation at the unlawful use rather than the mere possession of firearms.

3. Never restrict the basic right to keep a shotgun, rifle or handgun in one's home or place of business. (The FBI reports less than 7 pct. of crimes are committed with firearms, less than 1 pct. with rifles.)

4. Every purchaser of a mail order firearm should be required to send in some personal identification and proof of age.

5. Gun ownership registration lists would be a convenient way of disarming the private citizen at the whim of any subversive power that might filtrate the police agencies.

6. Some say the 2nd Amendment to the Constitution is obsolete because we have police and army to protect citizens, but many individuals are shot, stabbed or beaten while waiting for "the proper authorities" to arrive.

7. Gun enthusiasts and concerned citizens should write their congressmen and senators to reject hysteria in gun control.

Ticketed For Hit-Run Mishap

Henry P. Seymour, 17, of Rte. 1, Rapid River, was ticketed by State Police for failure to stop and identify himself at the scene of a property damage accident, as the result of a hit-run mishap Tuesday evening in front of the Rapid River High School.

Sports Park Is Readied To Open Saturday

With the upcoming holidays ahead high school and college students alike are looking forward to taking part in the winter sports activities.

Present plans call for the opening of the Gladstone Sports Park on Dec. 21, Saturday, providing the snow conditions are good and from all indications they will be.

Francis Roy, president of the Gladstone Ski Club, said the 21st has been set as a target date because this is the first day of vacation for high school youngsters. The opening date last year was approximately the same time.

Has Four Tows

During the off-season workmen have been busy readying the ski park for opening. There has been some electrical work done, which will increase the outdoor lighting of the area, and work has been done on the slopes of the east hill, across from the bowl tow.

Roy said that the work on the slope was done by an employe of the Mead Corp. and that Mead also provided the bulldozer for the job.

Also completed this past year was the replacement of tow ropes on two of the tows. The Sports Park has four tows, one on the front hill, a second on the bowl hill, one on the east hill, and a fourth that is presently being installed on the small hill south of the club house for use by small children.

According to Roy, Bob Barron and John Hebert, both of Escanaba, will work with the ski patrol this year.

Open Ski School

The clubhouse, operated by Ray Norton of Gladstone, is expected to open on Saturday. Here skiers can get hot coffee, chocolate, hamburgers, popcorn, candy, etc.

On January 4-5 the Sports Park ski school instruction will get under way with Jerry Harris and Walter Palmquist as instructors. Registrations for the ski school can now be obtained at either the Manning Shoe Store in Escanaba or Hansen's Sporting Goods in Gladstone.

Roy pointed out that in order to join the ski school, for which a nominal fee is charged, a person must be a member of the ski club.

Mark Sixth Year

The ski school consists of six one-hour classes for each student, of one hour each week. The groups are formed according to the skiers ability, beginners, intermediate, advanced and the racing class.

Deadline for registering for the ski school is Dec. 28.

This year's ski school will mark the sixth year of operation. Roy said that in the past the classes have been growing by an average of 10 to 15 per cent each year. Last year the school taught a total of 258 students, this year about 275 are expected.

The schedule for opening of the clubhouse and ski park is from 1 to 5 p. m. on Saturday and Sunday and from 7:30 to 10:30 p. m. each Thursday. Roy said that tentative plans are underway to open the park for use on Saturday evening also, but that no definite decision has been made as yet.

Santa and the Haunted House

By LUCRECE BEALE

In walked Santa and Nog couldn't believe his eyes.

CHAPTER 14
THE PURPLE STONE

The charm which Santa showed the children was a purple stone, smooth to the touch and no longer than Miss Jo's thumb.

"The Queen Fairy gave me this long ago," Santa told the children. "With it in my hand I can turn into any shape I wish. It has been very useful to me for I have often had to change into a broom to get down small chimneys and into a mouse when a child has come upon me filling his stocking.

"You're only fooling!" said Miss Jo uncertainly.

"Indeed I am not," said Santa. "In fact I shall change now into a hummingbird and I will change you also into hummingbirds and we will fly directly to the Kingdom of Poo."

With that he rubbed the purple stone and became a hummingbird. Before the children could recover from their astonishment, they too had become birds — a little one that was Jeremy, a middle-size one that was Sissy and a teeny tiny one that was Miss Jo. They spread their wings and flew once around the room and then they followed Santa through a crack in the window and soared away from Santa Land.

Hummingbirds can fly faster than the eye can follow and if they are charmed they can fly faster than the time it takes to tell about it. So it was that Santa and the three children arrived before dawn on Burning Tree Road in the Kingdom of Poo.

As soon as they alighted, they all turned back into their natural shapes and Santa said, "You children go home now for Nog can be very troublesome and it is best that I handle this by myself."

No matter how much they begged and argued he would not let them stay so they left him and walked away. But as soon as Santa's back was turned, the children left the road and, ducking from bush to bush, followed Santa to the Haunted House.

Santa walked right up to the house — brave as could be — and went right through the door without knocking or calling out or anything. The children streaked around the side of the house and standing on tiptoe peered through a broken window, scarcely daring to breathe.

There was purple - faced, toothless, hairless, bottle-shaped Nog sitting on a box and getting ready to eat his breakfast which was fried hoydoy. In walked Santa and Nog couldn't believe his eyes. He fell over backwards and the hoydoy spattered on the floor. Nog scrambled to his feet and said, "I thought you were dead!"

"No," said Santa, "I didn't eat your cake so I'm feeling very well but I've come to have a talk with you. You just can't go on acting like this. Someone may get hurt."

"Talk," said Nog. "That's nothing. Talk all you want. It can't hurt me."

"Well," said Santa, taking out the purple stone, "I also have a charm. I can change you or me into any shape I wish so you had better be careful and behave yourself."

"Ha!" said Nog defiantly. "I don't believe it. Let me see you turn yourself into an old woman for instance."

"Very well," said Santa. "I'll show you."

He rubbed the stone and instantly he was an old, old woman, bent and crippled, shaking all over.

"See," said Santa in the old woman's quavering voice. "Now you know what I can do to you."

"Not now!" cried Nog and before the old woman could change shape, Nog snatched the purple stone from her doddering fingers.

"Watch me!" he cried.

He rubbed the stone gleefully in his own bony fingers and suddenly he himself was Santa Claus!

Tomorrow: Nog's Christmas Plans

Santa and the Haunted House

By LUCRECE BEALE

In walked Santa and Nog couldn't believe his eyes.

CHAPTER 14
THE PURPLE STONE

"The Queen Fairy gave me this long ago," Santa told the children. "With it in my hand I can turn into any shape I wish. It has been very useful to me for I have often had to change into a broom to get down small chimneys and into a mouse when a child has come upon me filling his stocking.

"You're only fooling!" said Miss Jo uncertainly.

"Indeed I am not," said Santa. "In fact I shall change now into a hummingbird and I will change you also into hummingbirds and we will fly directly to the Kingdom of Poo."

With that he rubbed the purple stone and became a hummingbird. Before the children could recover from their astonishment, they too had become birds — a little one that was Jeremy, a middle-size one that was Sissy and a teeny tiny one that was Miss Jo. They spread their wings and flew once around the room and then they followed Santa through a crack in the window and soared away from Santa Land.

Hummingbirds can fly faster than the eye can follow and if they are charmed they can fly faster than the time it takes to tell about it. So it was that Santa and the three children arrived before dawn on Burning Tree Road in the Kingdom of Poo.

As soon as they alighted, they all turned back into their natural shapes and Santa said, "You children go home now for Nog can be very troublesome and it is best that I handle this by myself."

No matter how much they begged and argued he would not let them stay so they left him and walked away. But as soon as Santa's back was turned, the children left the road and, ducking from bush to bush, followed Santa to the Haunted House.

Santa walked right up to the house — brave as could be — and went right through the door without knocking or calling out or anything. The children streaked around the side of the house and standing on tiptoe peered through a broken window, scarcely daring to breathe.

There was purple - faced, toothless, hairless, bottle-shaped Nog sitting on a box and getting ready to eat his breakfast which was fried hoydoy. In walked Santa and Nog couldn't believe his eyes. He fell over backwards and the hoydoy spattered on the floor. Nog scrambled to his feet and said, "I thought you were dead!"

"No," said Santa, "I didn't eat your cake so I'm feeling very well but I've come to have a talk with you. You just can't go on acting like this. Someone may get hurt."

"Talk," said Nog. "That's nothing. Talk all you want. It can't hurt me."

"Well," said Santa, taking out the purple stone, "I also have a charm. I can change you or me into any shape I wish so you had better be careful and behave yourself."

"Ha!" said Nog defiantly. "I don't believe it. Let me see you turn yourself into an old woman for instance."

"Very well," said Santa. "I'll show you."

He rubbed the stone and instantly he was an old, old woman bent and crippled, shaking all over.

"See," said Santa in the old woman's quavering voice. "Now you know what I can do to you."

"Not now!" cried Nog and before the old woman could change shape, Nog snatched the purple stone from her doddering fingers.

"Watch me!" he cried.

He rubbed the stone gleefully in his own bony fingers and suddenly he himself was Santa Claus!
